TEACHER SHOT BY MOTHER OF SCOLDED BOY

Children in School Room See Attack.

Because Miss Rosalind I. Reynolds, instructor at the McLaren school, Flournoy and Laflin streets, had reprimanded Herman Rindoni, a 10 year old pupil, Herman's mother visited Miss Reynolds' classroom yesterday and fired two shots at the teacher, wounding her twice.

Although the affair occurred at 10 o'clock in the morning, no report was made to the police by the principal of the school and a passing patrolman was forced to gather the news late yesterday evening from the prattle of the school children.

The assailant, Mrs. Carmelita Rindoni, 1537 Polk street, was allowed to leave the school building and at a late hour last night was still at large. The Desplaines street police are searching for her.

Mother Fined as Delinquent.

Mrs. Rindoni, a Sicilian, some time ago paid a fine of $50 in juvenile court as a delinquent mother. The complaint was made by school authorities. She brooded over the matter. Young Herman was at that time sent to the Juvenile home. He recently returned.

He began the school year in the fourth grade. According to other teachers and pupils, Herman constantly tried to make life miserable for his teacher, Miss Reynolds. She was forced to reprimand him.

Some days ago, Herman went home and told his mother that Miss Reynolds had pulled a handful of hair from his head and treated him brutally. He showed a bald spot said to have been caused by a ringworm as evidence.

Mother Enters School Room.

The mother, angered by the boy's tale, went to the Juvenile Protective association. Thursday morning, accompanied by a representative of the association and an attorney, the mother appeared at the school house. She talked to Principal Charles J. Lunak. He promised to investigate and asked her to return yesterday.

The principal investigated. He reported to the school board that the charges were unfounded.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the door leading into Miss Reynolds' classroom slowly opened. Quietly—so quietly the children didn't even raise their eyes from their school books—Herman and his mother entered.

Boy Points Out Teacher.

The mother looked at Miss Reynolds. "Is that your teacher, Herman?" she hissed in Sicilian.

"Si, mama!" Herman replied.

Without a word of warning the woman's hand was withdrawn from under the apron. A shiny pistol barked twice.

The teacher's face went pale. Her right hand began to bleed. The pupils were in pandemonium. Several fainted. Miss Reynolds sank into a chair.

Flees from Principal's Office.

Principal Lunak rushed into the room. The mother and boy were taken to his office. They were told to stay there. Miss Reynolds was taken to Frances Willard hospital nearby.

Mrs. Rindoni was left alone for a moment in the principal's office, and she fled.

Neighbors of Mrs. Rindoni said the woman had threatened several persons with a revolver on slight pretexts. They said she remarked before leaving for the schoolhouse that she "would show Herman's teacher a thing or two."

DOCTORS HOPE TO SAVE LIFE OF MAC SWINEY

But He May Have Carried Effort Too Far.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Oct. 23, 4 a. m.—The Exchange Telegraph announces that it has been informed that Lord Mayor MacSwiney is at the point of death.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1920: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney, the hunger striker, today is reported to be worse, but it is said the doctors have hopes of saving his life.

The relatives of the lord mayor still bulletin daily that he is refusing to take food. Today's bulletin follows:

"The lord mayor continues delirious with short intervals of consciousness. He is even unable to recognize his relatives and his surroundings. For a short period during the night his delirium became violent again and spasms of twitchings on the limbs and face continued. He went to sleep for about an hour at 4:45 in the morning. Suddenly he asked what month and year it was. He asked if the Irish republic had been established.

Mutters of Marching.

"It seemed that he might recognize his sister, but almost immediately he went into a delirium again, muttering:

"'We did some grand marching during the night. They were marching as well, but we beat them. It is glorious, glorious.'

"The prison authorities continue to force food into his mouth. At about 8:30 a. m. the nurse held a spoon of meat juice to his mouth, but he muttered, 'No, no, take it away,' and closed his lips firmly. This performance was repeated twice, when his head fell back from exhaustion from his efforts and the spoon was then inserted in his mouth."

An Afternoon Report.

The mayor's condition was reported in the afternoon bulletin as follows:

"The lord mayor has been more or less semi-conscious all morning. His delirium continues at intervals in more extreme form. Now he is calm."

I was told by an Irishman in touch with the prison that McSwiney is now taking food regularly under cover of forcible feedings, but this is denied emphatically by friends of the mayor.

Another British State Shuns Beauty of Dry Law

MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 22.—The voting on the question of prohibition in the state of Victoria resulted in only two districts voting dry. One hundred and thirty-two districts voted in favor of the continuance of the existing limited license system, while sixty-seven voted in favor of a reduction in the number of licenses.

STATUE OF NUDE GIRL TO BEAUTIFY YARD OF LITTLE N. Y. CHAPEL

New York, Oct. 22.—[Special.]—The Rev. William Norman Guthrie, rector of St. Mark's-in-the-Bouerie, is going to unveil a statue of a nude woman in the churchyard Sunday.

"Little Lady of the Dew," as the statue, which comes from the hand of Solon Borglum, brother of Gutzon, is known, is part of Dr. Guthrie's comprehensive plan for beautifying St. Mark's and its surrouridings. It is part of a general artistic program for the neighborhood of East Tenth street.

"What is your spiritual conception of the ideas which underlie this statuary plan?" Dr. Guthrie was asked.

Dr. Guthrie led the way to the portico and pointed out twin lions, which flanked the entrance.

"The lions represent the animal world and the shrubbery around them represents vegetation. It is the entrance to God's house.

"There is the niche, representing the spirit of baptism, while its running water, its cedar trees, and the naked girl holding forth the waters.

"I want a naked woman for that statue. I want to teach the sanctity of the body as God made it. He did not make us with clothes, and the body is the emblem of the spirit. It is beautiful, innocent, sexless, and only a Rodin could have done it."

"Can't Vote for Harding"; Man Goes Over Niagara

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Before the eyes of a score of sightseers at Prospect Point, a man thought to have been Carl A. Ellis of Hamburg, New York, today climbed over the railing, waded out into the river and was carried over the American falls. As he drifted to the brink, he waved his hand and shouted, "Here's where I leave you; goodby."

The owner of a souvenir stand near the falls told the police that the man approached him and laughingly said "Well, I can't vote for Harding, so I may as well go over."

The souvenir seller thought the man was joking until he saw the fatal leap.

BRITISH STRIKE SESSIONS TODAY TEND TO PEACE

Miners' Executives to Meet in London.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1920: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The labor situation tonight still is very grave, but there are signs of hope which may materialize in the next twenty-four hours. The situation at this moment is that the railroad workers threaten to strike at midnight on Sunday unless the negotiations by the miners with the government are reopened. This decision is taken, however, without consultation with the miners, and there is a possibility that a way will be found to rescind this decision without losing face.

The most hopeful sign tonight is the fact that the miners' executives have been summoned to meet in London tomorrow. This indicates a reopening of relations with the government.

Delay in Sight.

At this meeting they will consider the invitation of the executive committee of railroad men for a joint meeting at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, at which the whole situation will be discussed. It is almost certain that this invitation will be accepted, and at this meeting there will be a discussion of united action which probably will result in a delay of precipitate action by the railroad men while the miners continue their negotiations.

The parliamentary committee of the trades union congress also called a meeting in London for next Wednesday. The delegates will represent 5,000,000 workers. The call expresses the hope that in the meantime no union will take individual action which might result in defeating unity of action and securing a peaceful solution of the miners' strike.

Work for Peace.

Conservative labor leaders are working hard for peace and are in constant conference with the government.

J. H. Thomas of the railroad union and Robert Smillie of the coal miners conferred today in Downing street with Sir Robert Horne and Mr. Bonar Law and had a few words with the prime minister. After the conference, Mr. Thomas said:

"Informal conversations are liable to result in a practical suggestion which will provide a stable agreement."

At the same time hotheads in the labor movement are doing their best to foment trouble. Chief among these is Bob Williams of the transport workers, who already has circularized London's borough councils (the municipal governments), telling them they will have to apply to him for permits to transport food and other necessities and declaring he will not allow the use of troops or of 'white guards' as volunteers for this duty.

Hotheads among the Welsh miners also carried a resolution today at the South Wales conference calling on the national executive to order complete abandonment of the mines by the pumpmen and engineers.

Put Off Strike Vote.

One sign of peace is the action of the Society of Locomotive Enginemen and Firemen, which is a separate union from that of the railroad men, postponing action on a strike resolution until Monday.

If the strike is settled within the next few days, it will be due to the efforts of Mr. Thomas, Welsh leader of the railroad men, who is rapidly becoming the most influential labor leader in England. His strength lies in the fact that he is able to deal with Mr. Lloyd George in his own language and in the fact that the two Welshmen understand each other's psychology.

ECHO IN NEW YORK.

New York, Oct. 22.—The Central Federated union tonight planned aid for striking British coal miners through hampering of coal exportation at this port, and adopted resolutions asking government control of mines in the United States and a return of wartime distribution methods.

PLEADED TO MOB AND SAVED NECK; JURY FREES HIM

Welland, Ont., Oct. 22.—Several months ago David McNeal was arrested at Thorald, Ont., on suspicion of having slain 4 year old Margaret Boucock. That night a mob burned the Thorald jail and town hall and finally got possession of McNeal. With a rope around his neck, the prisoner pleaded for "fair play" and the chance of a legal trial. The mob finally granted his appeal. Today McNeal went to trial and was acquitted.

SERBIA'S KINGS TO RULE OVER JUGO-SLAVIA

[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.]

VIENNA, Oct., 21 [Via London, Oct. 22.]—Jugo-Slavia is declared to be a constitutional, hereditary monarchy with the Karageorgiewitch family the reigning dynasty.

According to reports reaching here from Belgrade, this decision was taken yesterday at the ministerial council held there. The council also decided the royal arms shall be a doubleheaded white eagle with the arms of Croatia and Slovenia on its breast, while the National flag shall be blue, white and red.

The council expressed itself in favor of a unified state with single legislative parliament, but advocated broadly based, non-legislative, local autonomy throughout the monarchy.

POET D'ANNUNZIO RECRUITS ARMY TO SEIZE ITALY

Coup Against Reds Planned.

BULLETIN.

ROME, Oct. 22.—A general strike has been proclaimed at Sestri as a protest against the arrest of several anarchists.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[Copyright: 1920: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ROME, Oct. 22.—An extensive recruiting campaign for an army to be commanded by Col. Gabrielle D'Annunzio has been unearthed in the last forty-eight hours by the police in several large cities of Italy. Agents of the poet induced several thousand youths of 18 to 20 years to join the colors, the gendarmie asserts.

The purpose of this organization of volunteers was to protect Italy against revolutionists in case of an attempt to seize the power of government, a representative of the "hero of Fiume" is said to have told the police. According to this man, D'Annunzio recently stated he was preparing to seize the reins of government himself in event the radicals became too dangerous, and is mustering the young blood of Italy to help him.

Anarchist leadess have decided to ask the labor federation to declare a general strike to last until the authorities release Enrico Malatesta, their leader, who was arrested a few days ago.

POLICE SEIZE REDS.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

MILAN, Oct. 22.—The Italian syndicalist party's entire executive was arrested today at Bologna, where a secret meeting had been called for arranging a big move against the authorities after the arrest of the notorious anarchist Armando Borghi, general secretary of the party. The police surrounded the building, easily capturing thirty members well provided with money.

Rumors of Coup d'Etat.

FLORENCE, Oct. 22.—The directorate of the Socialist party at the continuation today of its meeting here heard a statement from Deputy Morgari, who declared he had learned in Rome that a military coup d'etat was being organized, to be sprung Nov. 4, the anniversary of the Italian victory on the Piave in 1918.

ALONZO STAGG'S GIFT CAR MEETS WRECK; 3 SHAKEN

The electric auto presented by the alumni of the University of Chicago to Prof. Alonzo A. Stagg, director of physical education, was wrecked last night and Prof. Stagg, his wife, and their son Paul were shaken up when another car crashed into the electric at Fifty-sixth street and University avenue.

"I had all the lights on," said Prof. Stagg. "The car was standing at the curb and the door was open. I was talking to Rudy Knepper, who made the best score at the conference intercollegiate golf tournament today, when suddenly there came a crash. Paul, who is 11 years old, was thrown out of the car. Mrs. Stagg was thrown forward, but none of us was hurt.

"Two men and two women were in the other car. They were on the wrong side of the street and should have seen the lights of my car. One of the men said he was Ed Lawson of the Holland hotel, and the other gave his name as F. R. Helgren of Aurora."

DEMANDS CHIEF TURN OVER ALL HIS EVIDENCE

Prison Threat for Police Higher-Ups.

Chief of Police John J. Garrity's booze investigation was peremptorily snatched out of his hands last night by federal authorities.

Assistant United States Attorney John J. Kelly followed this action by the significant statement, of interest to involved police and booze runners alike, that "Leavenworth penitentiary yawns for the higher-ups as well as the minor participants in the booze scandal."

Mr. Kelly's prosecution will have the full support of Federal Judge K. M. Landis, "as far as the federal court can properly function," Judge Landis declared.

Garrity and Kelly Clash.

The ominous warning to Chief Garrity came after a clash in which Garrity was at first bellicose and later extremely obliging.

"The police have covered up long enough," Mr. Kelly declared. "I've given Chief Garrity a chance to cooperate. He flatly refused. I've got evidence now that will send a bunch of them to prison, and the higher-ups will go along unless they come clean—and come clean quick.

"Police graft has been found in every booze scandal. If they refuse to cooperate with us now there is a place known as Leavenworth which yawns for the higher-ups as well as the little fellows—and we've laws that will send them there.

Sets Time Limit for Chief.

"Garrity has been given until 10 o'clock Saturday morning to get all his secret files and records to the federal building. If they are not in my office by that time I shall ask the federal grand jury to send for Chief Garrity with a posse of deputy marshals."

Mr. Kelly's statement followed a snappy conversation over the telephone. He had just ordered the eleventh warrant in two days charging police connivance in illicit whisky deals. He had just received word from Federal Judge Landis that the judge would aid him in every way.

"Chief Garrity," Attorney Kelly began, speaking softly, "I called you up to ask that you turn over to me all evidence which you have gathered in liquor investigations. Will you send it over?"

"No," the chief shot back. "Not until I'm through with it!"

Demands Heitler Evidence.

"Chief," Mr. Kelly continued, suavely, "I also want the evidence you have collected in the Heitler case. Heitler, you know, was recently arrested by the police. Will you turn that over?"

"No!" explosively.

"For the sake of good fellowship I'm going to give you another chance to turn the evidence over voluntarily. If not, I'll ask subpœnas, or warrants if necessary."

"Will you let me have until 10 o'clock Saturday morning?"

Mr. Kelly agreed to that.

Garrity Has Cops Arrested.

Following that conversation there was a great scurrying around the chief's office. Garrity bustled into Corporation Counsel Ettelson's office.

"Coöperate with the federal government, and keep your fingers out of the federal buzz-saw," was the advice given him, it is said.

Then followed activity in the chief's investigation, affecting, however, only policemen. Three policemen from the Stockyards station were suddenly arrested for conspiracy in a matter which happened back in August. Much mystery was thrown around the arrests.

Four stenographers were detailed to work all night getting out the statements of the hundred odd witnesses who have been interrogated during Garrity's probe.

Gives Police Clean Bill.

"Everything will be turned over to the government in the morning," the chief announced. "The government is welcome to it, although I am sorry to have my investigation taken out of my hands so abruptly. It means that I will have to drop my inquiry, and my hope of getting to the root of the trouble in the department falls flat.

"There is nothing in any of the stations incriminating any policeman. In the Heitler case statements, there is ground for indictment of the saloonkeepers who participated, but my inquiry disclosed nothing except minor infractions of civil service rules as far as the police are concerned."

The chief was not backward in as-cribing a motive to the sudden demand of the government for evidence.

"It appears that the government found the McLaughlin and other liquor cases too hot to handle," he said. "It is now striving to create a sensation at the expense of the police department to cover up conditions at home."

U. S. Has Ace in Hole.

At the federal building it was rumored that Attorney Kelly's stern measures were based on the confessions of two policemen, as yet unnamed in the scandal, who were fully acquainted with the intimate details of the whisky ring.

Attorney Kelly can legally force Chief Garrity to come to the federal building by means of grand jury subpoenas. There is a penalty of one year in the federal penitentiary for persons who fail to report knowledge of a violation of a federal statute. This will be used to force police officials into line, Mr. Kelly said.

The three policemen ordered arrested by the chief are Sergeant of Police William L. Bush, 6156 Indiana avenue; Detective Sergeant John E. V. Fogarty, 5639 South Honore street, and Patrolman William O'Brien, 6414 Drexel avenue.

Bush for many years was detailed at the detective bureau. He was later transferred to the chief's office. When Garrity assumed office he transferred Bush to the stockyards station.

O'Brien, former captain in the A. E. F., was in command of military police in France for two years. He is now private secretary to Capt. John L. Hogan of the Stockyards station.

Story of Alleged "Shakedown."

All three are charged with conspiracy to obtain feloniously $1,000 from Thomas A. Sweeney, an expressman, 8414 South Racine avenue. According to the story, it was a "shakedown."

Around the first of September Sweeney met a man known to him as Crowe, who had 120 gallons of whisky to sell. They became acquaitned in the drug store of Adee & Olander at 6859 S. Halsted street.

Sweeney took Crowe to William Heffernan, saloon man at Forty-seventh and Halsted streets. Sweeney, "Crowe," Heffernan, and a former policeman, Edward McMullen, went to Thirty-seventh street and Calumet avenue, tested the whisky, and found they didn't want it.

They returned to Heffernan's. There Sweeney was introduced to Bush, O'Brien, and Fogarty. Sweeney, Bush, O'Brien, Fogarty, and McMullen went back to Thirty-seventh and Calumet and arrested "Crowe."

$1,000 to Free Prisoners.

"Crowe" was Rex Bain, a "watered whisky" con man. His partner was a man named Jackson. Sweeney had $1,000 which he was to pay down on a couple of trucks he had purchased. On the way to the station Sweeney gave the $1,000 to the three policemen to "fix them" so "Crowe" and Jackson would be released. The two crooks had told Sweeney they would return the money to him the next day.

The next morning Sweeney went with "Crowe" and Jackson to 4020 Calumet avenue. "Crowe" and Jackson disappeared. McMullen and the three policemen refused to return Sweeney's money. Sweeney hired a lawyer and set out to collect.

Joe Kriesman, hardware dealer at 1244 West Chicago avenue, was visited by federal agents yesterday. They found seventy copper boilers and fifty coils. He admitted having disposed of seventy-five outfits this year.

Three More Cops Under Fire.

Three policemen from the Englewood station were accused of graft and protection of liquor rings in a confession made by two white men and three Negroes. They told Maj. Dalrymple the police not only had aided them in the theft of twenty-two barrels of wine from a railroad yard, but also rode away with them in a truck.

Those who confessed are Howard Mayes, 5544 State street, and Ben Brown, 5760 Lafayette avenue, truck drivers. They are under arrest with Frank J. Brussa and John W. Bodkin, owners of the trucks, and James Sinclair, a yard employé of the New York Central railroad.

Twenty-two barrels of the wine was seized by dry authorities in a barn at the rear of 5515 Lafayette avenue. It had been shipped to the Bona Fide Drug company, 115 East Fifty-first street. According to the confession, Sinclair planned to steal the wine. Police protection was promised the truck drivers while they moved the wine.

COMMONS ADDS $90,000,000 TO IRISH TRIBUTE

Home Rule Bill Amended Amid Acid Debate.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1920: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Oct. 22.—After a somewhat acrimonious debate in commons on the financial clauses of the home rule bill for Ireland Mr. Lloyd George's adherents pushed through an amendment without a division.

Sir Worthington Evans, moving the government amendment, explained it was provided that for the next two years Ireland should make a contribution of 18,000,000 pounds ($90,000,000) to the imperial services. He claimed this figure was just and moderate and said the bill's financial provisions are much more generous for Ireland than those in the 1914 bill.

Sir Edward Carson, accepting the financial arrangements, asked the government to remember "When you sneer at us that you now are asking us to pay 45 per cent of the Irish contribution to the imperial exchequer."

Let Devlin Back.

Before the house went into committee to consider the financial clauses Mr. Bonar Law formally moved for termination today of the suspension from the house of Joe Devlin who was suspended at the last session as a result of the scene arising out of the new coercion measure for Ireland. The motion was agreed to without discussion.

Evans said the government could not accept the suggestion that at the end of two years the Irish parliaments should have the right to decide whether they should continue to make any future contribution to the imperial government. Neither could the government accept the proposal that all powers over the income tax and supertax be transferred to the Irish parliaments.

Sir Donald MacLean characterized the financial resolutions as a farce. Col. Walter Guiness said Ireland could not bear the financial burden imposed upon her by the British. Wintringham said the government was dressing up an extraordinary figure to go to the extraordinary dance in Ireland, and the only member who so far had promised to dance was Carson.

Plan for Irish Peace.

A plan for a settlement of the Irish problem on the basis of full internal self-government, reserving the machinery of defense to the empire, as a result of the bargain with Dail Eirann, has been placed before Prime Minister Lloyd George. An answer, however, is not expected until next week, when it is hoped the miners' strike will be out of the way.

BATTLE NEAR CORK

BY JOHN LESTER.
[Copyright: 1920: By The Chicago Tribune.]

DUBLIN, Oct. 22.—The military tell a dramatic story of a fight near Ballinhassig in Cork today between soldiers and Sinn Fein vclunteers. Two lorries, the first conveying important dispatches for Bandonn barracks and the second with a heavy escort, were attacked where woods skirted the road.

The car with the dispatches passed through. The second car was fired on from both sides, the engine was disabled and the escort continued to fight until three soldiers were killed and all but one wounded.

When the firing slackened the volunteers with rifles, bayonets and shotguns rushed the car, seized all arms and ammunition, searched the soldiers for dispatches, and then disappeared before reinforcements arrived.

The Sinn Fein casualties are not reported. The dispatches were safely delivered at Bandon in armored cars. Three hundred soldiers are searching the district.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 22.—The allies have abandoned their plan to subdue the Turks in Asia Minor by the use of Greek troops and will now try arbitration, according to reliable information received here.

Grand Vizier Damad Ferid Pasha, who is regarded as pro-British, and the entire cabinet have resigned. A new cabinet is now being formed with the idea of reconciling the Constantinople and Angora governments.

Going to Angora.

Both the Armenians and the Turkish Nationalists report the occupation of Kars by troops under Mustapha Kemal Pasha.

Move on Batum.

Although Georgia and Armenia are negotiating a military alliance, some Armenians object to the fromer republic entering into an agreement with the Nationalists, who are said to be making a move on Batum, and are willing to cede to Georgia the disputed boundary territory.

Shooting of Bootlegger Defended by Summerall

Camp Dix, N. J., Oct. 22.—Maj. Gen. Summerall, commander of the 1st division here, today upheld the rights of the military police to shoot suspects caught within the camp limits in the "bootlegging" crusade.

His decision was made in reviewing the court martial decision in the case of Private H. Murray, who shot Richard Parker, a hotel proprietor of New Egypt, who failed to hear the sentry's challenge to halt. The court martial found Murray guilty.

Gen. Summerall said the soldier was justified in shooting in view of the reports that "bootleggers" had been invading the camp and selling liquor to the soldiers.

They had to call the reserves from the federal dry offices in the Transportation building yesterday to hold back the crowd that gathered when a squad of dry agents began to pour twenty-two barrels of confiscated wine into a sewer on South State street. The wine was seized in a restaurant at 736 South State street after a fistic encounter with the feminine owner.

STEWARD HAS PLAN TO SPEED MAIL DELIVERY

Big Firms Asked to Aid New System.

A new plan of mailing which will speed the delivery time in Chicago of first, second, and third class mail by at least twenty-four hours has been devised by Col. Leroy T. Steward, superintendent of general delivery. Under this plan business organizations would sort their own third class mail before sending it to the main postoffice.

The plan has already been indorsed by a large number of business men. Each of the forty-eight stations in the city has been numbered. By placing the proper number on the envelope beside the address the man can easily be distributed and sent in separate mail bags to the main postoffice.

Explains New System.

"Under the old system it was necessary for an expert distributor to work through all the bulky mail searching out the stations it was addressed to," Col. Steward said. "In order to do away with this necessity for trained men, I have worked out a series of numbers, one for each postal station in the city.

"Representatives have been sent to busness firms throughout the city requesting them to aid us by sending their mailing lists to this office where the addresses will be numbered with the station to which they are to be sent.

Aids Inexperienced Men.

"Say the letters are to be sent to the Dalton Park station. That number is thirty-eight. Every letter numbered thirty-eight will be placed in the same bag by the business firm when they send out their mail. Either that or the letters are simply numbered and sent to the main postoffice, where inexperienced men can sort them."

GERMANY PLANS VAST SEIZURE OF REAL ESTATE

80 Billion Mark Tax to Be Rushed Through.

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1920: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—As a drastic step necessary to save the country from complete financial ruin, the German government has determined to collect the 80,000,000,000 mark "reichsopfer," or "national distress sacrifice," within two years, instead of thirty years, as scheduled up to this time.

While not a word on this subject has appeared in the German press, and probably will not until the cabinet formally has authorized publication, a bill establishing a complete new graded scale of taxation already has been prepared, and the government feels no doubt but what the reichstag will approve it.

Fear of Public.

However, it is feared that public resentment against the announcement will be controlled, only, if the matter is handled in an extremely cautious manner.

Among the most startling features of the bill is the provision for the state seizure of real estate and buildings, which virtually amounts to expropriation.

Percentage Unfixed.

What percentage of the poor man's or rich man's funds are to be confiscated under the new scale has not yet been estimated. The original proposal exempted only the first 5,000 marks, and placed a tax of from 10 to 65 per cent on the remainder, so that, for instance, a man having 3,000,000 marks would pay nearly 1,250,000 for this tax alone.

Since nearly 80,000,000,000 must be collected in one-fifteenth of the time originally planned, it is easily seen that expropriation will probably result.

AMERICANS SEEK ZEPPELINS FOR BIG AIR ROUTES

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—The answer of the government to the charges of Sir Trevor Dawson, at the London aviation congress, that Germany was not obeying the peace treaty in regard to Zeppelins, was that American interests intend to install air routes in North and South America, in the former case as far as San Francisco, and that the Zeppelin company was authorized to open negotiations, but they have since been broken because of the uncertainty as to the fate of the works under the peace treaty.

"Negotiations so far have covered only a route from central Europe to America, "the statement says," and it was not determined whether the terminal would be on the east coast of the United States or continue to Chicago or San Francisco."

G. O. P. EXPENSE ACCOUNT SHOWS COX BAD GUESS

Upton Files Report with Clerk of House.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT]
Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Contributions to the Republican political campaign committee, national senatorial and congressional committees to Oct. 18, aggregated $3,990,693, according to sworn statements filed today with the clerk of the house of representatives in compliance with the corrupt practices act.

Contributions to the Republican national campaign on that date, according to the report filed by Fred W. Upham, national treasurer, were $2,[illegible]. In addition to this amount the national committee had collected for turned over to the various state committees $1,015,618, and the Republican congressional committee accounted for a fund of $509,054.

The Republican national committee's report shows, had expended to Oct. 18 $2,741,503, and the congressional committee accounted for disbursements of $418,527. Amounts expended by the state committees and by the congressional committee had not been accounted for in the report.

Show Cox Exaggerated.

Mr. Upham's report also showed the national committee had borrowed $333,500 for use of the senatorial and congressional committees and loaned this amount to these committees.

The Republican figures, which though preliminary to the total campaign expenditures which are not to be filed until thirty days after election, demonstrate conclusively in the opinion of Republican leaders that Cox was exaggerating considerably when he charged the Republicans were amassing a $30,000,000 campaign fund to buy the national election.

More than 40,000 individuals contributed to the Republican fund, according to Clarence B. Miller, secretary of the Republican national committee, is more than double the number of contributors to any other campaign fund in the history of the country.

Time for filing preliminary campaign statements expired at midnight, but accounts of the Democratic committees had not been received when the clerk's office closed the day.

Hamilton Club Biggest Donor.

Only sixteen contributions to the Republican fund, the report shows, were in excess of $1,000. The largest single contribution was from the Hamilton club of Chicago, whose members subscribed $[illegible]. Other contributions ranged from 25 cents to $1,000 from persons in every part of the country, the report covering more than 2,000 pages.

The reports, of course, do not reveal the total expenditures of the various committees, representing, as they do, up to a few days before the election of the fifteen day period before the national election when the campaign filing of preliminary statements. How much more may be collected and disbursed between now and election Republican leaders would not predict, but said it was safe to assume that the campaign expenditures of the party could not possibly assume any such gigantic proportions as those charged would be employed in the campaign.

Individual Contributors.

Among the large contributors to the Republican national committee were:

T. G. Kennedy, Tulsa, Okla.....
Philip J. Goodberry, New York.....
Albert E. Goodberry, New York.....
William Sacks, Tulsa, Okla.....

[illegible] Kahn of New York, while William Childs, New York; George A. Dr[illegible] Hopedale, Mass., and Henry Hornblower, Boston, each contributed $5,0[illegible] to this fund. Other large contributors to the congressional fund were:
F. B. Walker, Minneapolis.....
H. M. Hanna, Thomasville, Ga.....
Anderson Grats, St. Louis.....
Eugene Mayer Jr., New York.....
Those who contributed $500 to the congressional committee included R. Manville, Milwaukee; James A. [illegible]ten, Chicago; Charles Vogtel, Ulm, Minn.; A. M. Marshall, Duluth, Finley J. Shepard, New York, and A. Ramsey, Minneapolis.

State Funds Not Included.

The Republican national committee's statement filed at the clerk's office this afternoon was accompanied by an affidavit from Treasurer Upham setting forth that he had acted in the campaign as agent and trustee in the collection of moneys for the Republican state committees of the several states, and that the moneys collected for these various committees for the use of the states had been turned over to them and were not a part of the Republican national committee fund.

"MUMBO-JUMBO" IS TITLE GIVEN ROOT BY COLBY

Article X. Defended by Secretary.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Characterizing Elihu Root, one of his predecessors in office, as "a veritable Mumbo-Jumbo," Secretary of State Colby issued a statement tonight challenging Mr. Root's position on the League of Nations, particularly his analysis of the effect of Article X.

"Mr. Root is wrong. What he says is wrong; what he seeks to do, is wrong. I suspect Mr. Root knowns this."

These were the concluding words of Mr. Colby's statement which described as "a plain missstatement of facts" Mr. Root's declaration that article X. of the league covenant "is an attempt to carry over and continue for all time, as part of the organization to preserve peace, the exercise of power by the conquering nations in closing the war."

Divides Republicans.

The secretary said one section of the Republican party is breathing easier and another section is breathing harder, as a result of Mr. Root's spech.

"He does not agree with Borah and Johnson, who say the league is 'scrapped,'" Mr. Colby said. "He does not agree with Harding, who is opposed to clarification, opposed to reservations and insists that he favors rejection. Harding is in favor of 'staying out.' Root is in favor of going in, but with his coat button up to his chin, one hand clenching his reservations, and the other the privilege of withdrawal."

The secretary then proceeds to pay tribute to Mr. Root's abilities, but seeks to call attention to occasions when Mr. Root was wrong.

"When I say that he is frequently right," said Mr. Colby, "I am sure he will not be offended if I say that there have been conspicuous instances in which he has been wholly wrong."

Says Root Was Wrong.

The secretary then makes mention of Mr. Root's argument on behalf of the brewery interests in opposition to the prohibition amendment; his prediction that the federal reserve law would prove to be disastrous, and the rejection by the people of New York of the new state constitution, which, he said, was largely the result of Mr. Root's thought and labor.

"And yet," the secretary added, "there is a school of Republican opinion that regards Mr. Root as a veritable Mumbo-Jumbo. An expression from him is awaited with bated breath.

"If there is one thing which the war has taught the nations of the world it is that the projects discussed at the two Hague conferences for restraining war, and the peaceful regulation of international conduct, were utterly valueless and illusory. It is article X. which for the first time has given vitality and significance to the project of a League of Nations. It is this underlying and ultimate sanction by a joint force, susceptible of being invoked in the final analysis by the nations charged with the preservation of world peace."

ON BOARD THE TRANSPORT MERRITT, Oct. 22.—The transport Merritt, bearing several thousand tons of food and clothing to the starving Chinese, is on the way to Chen Tao Wan. Lieut. Col. Wiley of Gen. Kernan's staff is head of the army commission, but Mrs. Wallace collapsed from overwork in gathering the garments and raising funds and was unable to accompany the transport.

The total fund raised in the Philippines at the time of sailing was $240,000 and money still was coming in from all provinces.

An illustration of how the general feeling of the Filipinos was shown was a subscription of 5 pesos by the Sunday school of the leper colony at Culion.

The ship's manifest was not completed until half an hour before sailing, but the Merritt has a full cargo, which is only a start for the American and Filipino people.

HARDING RESTS, BELIEVING HE IS CERTAIN TO WIN

Next Week Will See Final Effort.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Marion, O., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Senator Harding returned to Marion today.

He will rest for five days before undertaking the last speaking activity of the campaign in Ohio.

He believes the "drift" of public sentiment is toward the Republican ticket. Many men of national reputation will be in this state next week, and the Republican state headquarters are working as though the election depended on this one state. A poll in Marion made public today gives Harding 1,139, and Cox, 594.

Senator Calm Over League.

Senator Harding is not worried over the league of nations' situation. He thinks that his patient attitude toward the members of his own party who have taken opposing sides in the controversy has brought harmony. What especially pleased him this morning was the assurance from Senator Johnson that he will stand for an association of nations along the lines suggested by Senator Harding. It is not felt that Senator Borah will join in this harmony movement, but he may find himself in a lonely corner.

Another development which pleased Senator Harding was the statement of Elihu Root that the league of nations was subject to modifications which would make it acceptable to the American people. He pointed out that in the early part of the controversy Mr. Root, Mr. Taft, Mr. Wickersham, and others did not feel this way, but stood for the original league.

Bow to Public Opinion.

Now, he thinks, they have come to feel the force of public opinion on the matter fostered by the anti-league men and are ready to go ahead with any association cutting out article X. or any similar compact and leaving America free to make its own decision.

Gov. Cox has said Senator Harding voted for the mild reservations to the treaty and covenant. The senator says he did not vote that way. He made a speech in the senate on the mild reservations, saying that he stood no more for mild reservations than he did for mild Americanism.

Senator Edge of New Jersey called at Harding headquarters and predicted "New Jersey for Harding by 100,000."

MATE, THIS WILL BE A SEA RACE TO REMEMBER LONG

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—There'll be no spotless duck trousers in this race, but there'll be weather beaten sea boots. There'll be no jaunty yachting parties languidly watching it through pearl handled binoculars; but the screaming gulls will race swiftly along in the wake of the lashing spray off the Grand Banks of Newfoundland. There'll be no postponement of the contest because a twenty mile breeze is stirring the whitecaps along Sandy Hook; but there'll be bronzed skippers peering into the gales—if gales there be—and laughing at peril.

Mates, this will be a race, for the Esperanto, Marty Welch, captain, and as crack a crew as could be gathered from among the daring fishermen of the New England fishing grounds are leaving for Halifax to race Monday for a $5,000 purse, a silver cup, and all the money the Canadian seagoing laddies care to wager on the three day championship trials.

The Canadian fishing schooner Delawanna, skippered by Mike Himmelman and manned by twenty-four captains, defeated everything in the north for the privilege of meeting the American boat with its crew of seven captains and expert sailors.

From the far reaches of Labrador to Cape Hatteras the sailing folk are watching this race and betting their good money on the result.

U. S. SEEKS PART IN ISLE OF YAP CABLE SERVICE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—State department officials were admittedly concerned today over cabled reports from Tokio that the Japanese government is vigorously opposed to the claims of the United States presented to the International Communication conference here for a share of control over the cable station on the island of Yap.

Officials were reluctant to discuss the matter at all, expressing the hope that they would be left to press the matter with all the diplomatic pressure they can exert without being embarrassed by premature publicity. Details of the proposals made by the United States were not disclosed.

COX, STILL NOT SATISFIED, AGAIN WIRES TO ROOT

Demands an Answer and "a Correction."

BY ROBERT B. SMITH.

Newark, N. J., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Gov. James M. Cox added another chapter today to his controversy with Elihu Root over his position on the league of nations.

He sent a telegram to Mr. Root, again calling upon him to retract the statement he made some days ago that the Democratic nominee was insisting upon ratification of the treaty just as President Wilson negotiated it.

"I respectfully asked of you a retraction of your untrue statement," Mr. Cox's telegram said. "You have apparently mistaken the purpose of my message, which was to give you the opportunity to correct a possible error or to admit the deliberateness of intent in its presentation.

Repeats His Question.

"Permit me, therefore, to renew in terms that cannot be misunderstood the request, which can be answered with an unequivocal yes or no—did you or did you not make the statement as quoted, and do you not know now that it was false; and do you not recognize that in justice to yourself and in justice to the American people who have honored you, you should publicly acknowledge it?

"In your reply to me, you have entered upon a long dissertation on Article X., in which again by inference you are endeavoring either deliberately or through misunderstanding and lack of information concerning my speeches, to misrepresent my position on the league of nations.

"Accepting the fact that your misstatement was based on lack of information, I referred you to the daily reports of my speeches in the newspapers, in which I have invariably said I favored the Hitchcock reservations and also that I would accept reservations from any source offered in sincerity and with a desire to help.

Asks for a Monosyllable.

"Now, Mr. Root, I have asked you a plain question. We are both assumed to understand the meaning of words. The American people likewise understand the meaning of words. You have been given the opportunity to correct your misstatement, and this correction you have failed to make."

Gov. Cox stumped today through New Jersey.

Introducing Gov. Cox at Trenton, Gov. Edwards said: "You've got the wobblers wobbling, and it simply means the final push to put them out."

The governor crossed to New York to spend the night. He is booked for nearly a dozen speeches in Manhattan tomorrow, including a night meeting at Madison Square garden.

ASIA IS TRADE'S LAND OF PROMISE, U. S. ENVOY SAYS

Wake Up, Grab Business, Paul Whitam's Plea.

The world's greatest development of transportation and material resources in the twentieth century will be in Asia and the lands bordering on the Pacific, in the opinion of Paul P. Whitam, trade commissioner of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the United States. He spoke on "American-Oriental Trade Development" yesterday at the Chicago Traffic club.

"The foreign trade of the United States in 1919, divided in accordance with major geographical groups," he said, "was approximately as follows: Europe, $6,000,000,000; the far east, $1,656,000,000; Latin America, $1,100,000,000. The far east holds second place in the trade of the United States today. What will be the trade of tomorrow?

China Braced for Spurt.

"Chinese business and industry are advancing and foreign business is expanding despite certain political disorganization. It will proceed much faster, however, when a better central organization undertakes the development of transportation facilities. Railroads, improved ports, and roads are the great need.

"About 21,000 miles of railways must be added to the existing 6,700 miles to complete the trunk lines alone, and the Chinese must look to America and Europe for capital. It will pay to make investments in this connection. In fact, Chinese-American trade expansion is dependent on the transportation development of China. The existing railways are paying well."

Looking Toward America.

Mr. Witham pointed out that a country larger than the United States and with four times the population remains to be provided with practically all the things we have in this country; that the Chinese prefer American participation, and desire technical and organization assistance and a certain amount of capital, "although in most instances they are prepared to furnish at least 50 per cent. He declares some of the Chinese industries have paid big returns on investments, from 6 to 50 per cent in some instances."

"A stay at home, inactive policy will not win for America," he said. A "go get-it" policy must be pursued. The commercial struggle is not so much between Smith and Jones and Brown as it is between nations.

OPPOSES HIGHER TAXES ON TEA, COFFEE, CANDY

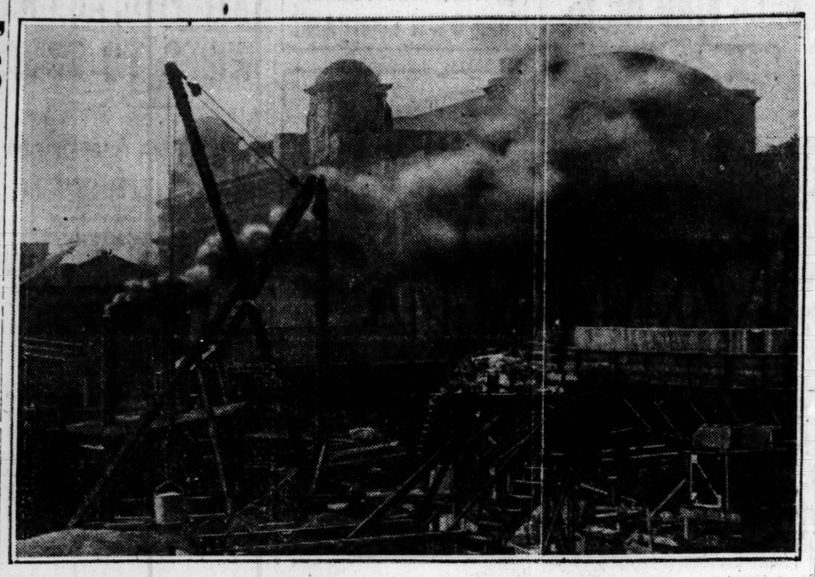

New York, Oct. 22.—Addressing the second national industrial tax conference here tonight, Otto H. Kahn, banker, said he was not wholly in accord with the committee's proposal to substitute for the excess profits tax increased taxes on coffee, tea, sugar, musical instruments, gasoline, cigarets, tobacco, and candy.

"In theory, the excess profits tax is a just tax," he said. "I do not think it has always added to cost, although every one tries to pass it on. My main objection is against its application. It is so hard to administer that it is practically unworkable without civil service experts. Also, I think, excessive surtaxes should be abolished."

Fayette R. Plumb, chairman of the conference, said the estimated total revenue of the government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, will be about $6,000,000,000, about $4,500,000,000 from taxes, and total expenditures approximately $5,000,000,000. The $1,000,000,000 surplus is not too much, he added, as in the next two and one-half years the government will be obliged to take care of a total debt of about $7,000,000,000.

The conference will be continued tomorrow.

A view of the loop through the steadily increasing smoke screen.

A BRIGHT young photographer discovered the heart of Chicago yesterday. It took him some time, but he found it all right, hidden under one of the neatest smoke screens ever seen.

The photographer thought first he might be looking at a London fog; but it didn't smell like fog; it smelled smoky. He knew then he was on the right track, and he looked through glasses with strong lenses. And sure enough, there was Chicago.

The above picture was taken in the vicinity of the Madison street bridge. The photographer intends to label his picture "Smudge," and, perhaps, enter it in a prize contest.

MRS. M. C. KENYON FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING TETLOW

Norwich, Conn., Oct. 2.—Mrs. Mabel C. Kenyon today was found guilty of manslaughter in killing Dr. Herbert Tetlow. She was sentenced to from ten to fifteen years in the penitentiary.

Dr. Tetlow had known Mrs. Kenyon many years and had been, according to evidence, on terms of intimate friendship with her.

Mrs. Kenyon had been married three times. She had three children by her third marriage, the third about a year ago.

The state offered evidence to show that Mrs. Kenyon had referred to the baby as "Herbert's and mine."

On June 11 Dr. Tetlow was shot while in his home. A revolver which has been discharged four times was turned over by Mrs. Kenyon to officers. She had been in Dr. Tetlow's house at the time of the shooting.

In the trial the defense claimed that Dr. Tetlow had shot himself because he was in love with the defendant.

N. Y. TO SUSPEND PUBLIC WORK TO AVOID EXTORTION

Untermyer Charges Vast Building Blackmail.

New York, Oct. 22.—[By the Associated Press.]—New York is ready to suspend all public works until it is learned if there is "open competition in bidding for the work."

This announcement was made here today by Mayor Hylan, when the joint legislative committee adjourned until Nov. 4, after its counsel had asserted it had only scratched the surface in its investigation of the "building trust."

Developments came in a dramatic session this afternoon after the mayor had addressed the board of estimate, declaring that "the building trust, the milk trust, the coal trust, and the other trusts have built a wall about New York higher than the Great Wall of China."

Big Contracts rescinded.

While the legislative committee was hearing witnesses in one chamber of the city hall, the board of estimate, meeting in another, rescinded four contracts involving approximately $1,000,000 worth of work on the proposed county court house.

While the legislative committee held only a brief session today, Samuel Untermyer, committee counsel, examined several witnesses regarding the activities of the alleged labor-contractor combination which he asserted was stifling construction work in New York City.

What Quiz Turned Up.

Important developments were:

Refusal of Robert P. Brindell, president of the Building Trades council, to refute testimony of Ephraim Levy and George Backer regarding a bribe of $25,000 paid to call off a strike.

Assertion by Mr. Untermyer that a widespread system of vast extortion was being practiced by unscrupulous labor leaders under the threat of calling strikes or actually doing so.

Allen Schnaier, a plumbing contractor, pleaded on the witness stand with committee counsel not to continue questions which he said would imperil his "million dollars' worth of business" by withdrawal of labor.

Schnaier made this appeal after testifying that he had subscribed under pressure to the "code of practice" of the plumbing contractors. This organization, he said, consisted of the 400 contractors of "the Fifty-eighth Street association," who sent their bids to John T. Hettrick, a lawyer, who is alleged to have operated the "code."

MISSING NAVAL OFFICER COMES BACK; ARRESTED

Waukegan, Ill., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Lieut. Frank De Clarke, personnel officer of the aviation unit at Great Lakes, who vanished from the station a week ago today under somewhat mysterious circumstances, today returned to the station of his own accord and submitted to arrest in connection with the alleged disappearance of about $1,000 in money from the Great Lakes athletic association.

Lieut. De Clarke was also charged with being absent from the station without permission and with neglecting the duties as member of the board of inquiry in connection with the suicide of Chief Machinist Mate James Burg, who shot himself in a telephone booth.

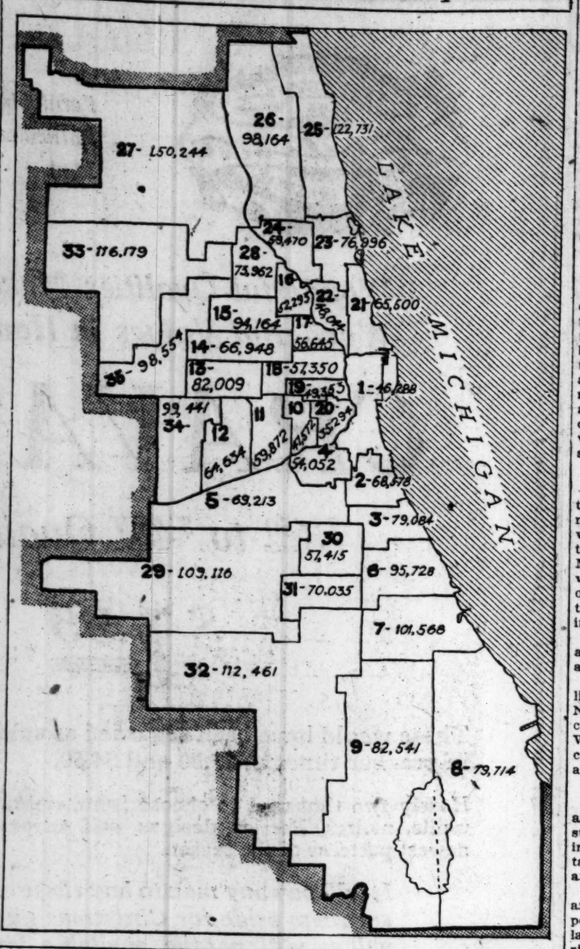

Lieut. De Clarke reported the loss of the athletic funds declaring they had been taken from his desk. His disappearance after reporting the theft was regarded as puzzling. When he heard the authorities were looking for him he came back to the station voluntarily and said he was ready to face the charges.

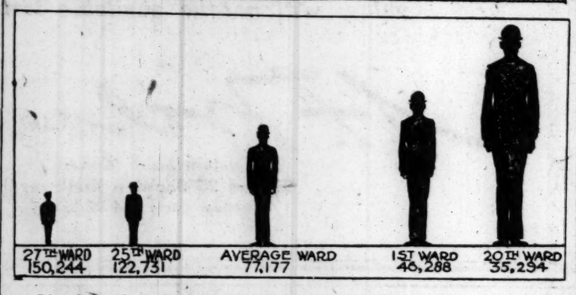

CULT FOUNDER, WIFE, POISONED

New York, Oct. 22.—Misha Appelbaum, founder and head of the Humanitarian cult, and his wife, were removed to a hospital tonight suffering from the effects of poison which they told the police had been taken by mistake. Their condition first was reported to be serious, but later at the hospital it was said both were "resting comfortably."

Neither explained how the mistake occurred.

"All Men Are Created Equal"

Lincoln said, "All men are created equal," but in Chicago, through its antiquated ward plan, a man in the Ghetto has three to five times as much voice in the city government as has a citizen in one of the higher class residence wards. The fifty ward plan, on which voters will pass at the election Nov. 2, is designed to equalize representation in the city council. The map shows the population of the present wards. The diagram below shows the comparative size of a man's power in city affairs in accordance with the location of his home.

50 WARD PLAN WILL EQUALIZE COUNCIL POWER

Citizens to Vote on the Bill Nov. 2.

When Ald. Henry L. Fick of the Twentieth ward casts his vote in the city council he represents 35,294 people—the population of the ward.

When Ald. Edward R. Armitage of the Twenty-seventh ward, answers a roll call in the council, 150,244 persons, the population of that ward, are given a voice in municipal government.

But the vote of Ald. Fick counts exactly the same as that of Ald. Armitage when Mayor Thompson announces the result of the vote, in spite of the fact that the population of the Twenty-seventh ward is nearly four and one-half times as great as that of the Twentieth.

To Correct Inequalities.

In the same way a citizen of the Twenty-fifth ward, through his two aldermen, has less than one-third of the representation in the city council that is given to a citizen who lives at Halsted and Maxwell streets.

Under the present conditions 610,731 persons in five wards of largest population have ten aldermen and 564,171 persons in eleven wards of smallest population have twenty-two aldermen.

"It is just such glaring inequalities of representation as these that the fifty ward bill, to be voted on Nov. 2, is designed to correct," said Ald. Henry D. Capitain of the Twenty-fifth ward, who introduced the order for the preparation of the fifty ward bill in the city council more than four years ago.

Plans Quick Redistricting.

"The plan provides for redistricting of the wards on a basis of equal representation within ninety days after its adoption by the voters, thus assuring immediate relief from the present conditions.

"And there are two other good reasons for the adoption of the plan. First, with one instead of two aldermen in each ward, divided responsibility would end. Aldermen could no longer shift responsibility. Second, with fifty instead of seventy aldermen, the city could increase aldermanic salaries without increasing total expenditures, thus insuring an improvement in aldermanic timber."

SINCLAIR CLUB TO DANCE.

The Sinclair club, composed of the employes of the home office of the Sinclair Refining company, will give a dinner and dance at the Congress hotel this evening. A four reel film entitled "The Story of Petroleum" will be shown.

BANKERS OF U. S. FIRE BROADSIDE AT CONTROLLER

Adjourn After Fight Over Condemnatory Vote.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—With the adoption of resolutions approving the credit and deflation policies of the federal reserve board, urging revision of revenue laws, the repeal of the excess profits tax, and censuring Controller of the Currency John Skelton Williams for his attack upon New York banks for excessive interest rates, the annual convention of the American Bankers' association came to an end today.

Official Defended in Vain.

A flareup over a paragraph relating to Mr. Williams' recent statement marked the adoption of the resolutions, when Daniel F. Guinan, Mahoney, Pa., took the floor to defend the controller. Mr. Guinan insisted that the controversy was one between a government official and certain individuals, and that the association had no business interfering.

Other delegates took issue with him and when the motion was put scarcely a dissenting voice was heard.

Following adjournment, Mr. Williams issued another blast against the New York bankers, whom he says have charged excessive interest rates. Mr. Williams said that criticisms of his recent statement seem "rather vague and feeble."

Three Vital Needs.

John S. Drum, San Francisco, new association president, said the three subjects of paramount importance during the coming year will be revision of tax laws, financing of foreign trade, and blue sky legislation.

M. Traylor, president, First Trust and Savings bank, Chicago, in a report from the committee on state legislation, recommended laws in the various states to permit state banks to invest in foreign banking institutions in the same way that federal laws permit national banks to do so.

SLAYING LAID TO STUDENTS' FIGHT FOR GIRL'S LOVE

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 22.—Jealousy may have been the motive for the killing of Elmer C. Drewes, Dartmouth senior, whose body was found last Sunday morning in the outskirts of the city with a bullet through the head. The police say they learned that recently Drewes and William P. Brines, the University of Pennsylvania freshman sought on a warrant charging him with Drewes' murder, had differences over a girl upon at least two occasions.

A woman, whose name the authorities declined to divulge, said she saw Brines Monday scraping red stains from the motor car which he later abandoned. An automatic pistol and two empty bottles were found in the car and it was bloodstained in several places.

Brines was seen yesterday at the home of his uncle, John R. Wiggins, a building contractor, where he had visited with his mother since Tuesday. Mrs. Brines has been taken to a hospital suffering from nervousness.

Slain Woman's Body Is Discovered by Hunters

New York, Oct. 22.—The body of an unidentified woman, with a piece of manila string wound and tied about the neck, was found by hunters late today in a clump of trees near West New Brighton, Staten Island. She had been killed after a struggle. Pearls from a broken necklace were scattered about. She was apparently about 30 years old.

Bite of Insect Delays J. Ham; Small's "Special" Rolls On

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Danville, Ill., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—This domain of "Uncle Joe" Cannon received tonight the courtly person of J. Hamilton Lewis, Democratic candidate for governor, who will address the local voters tomorrow on the commonwealth of Illinois, its tigers and other beasts of prey, and the best way of ridding our political jungles of the same.

In the course of his talk—one before the tenants of the Old Soldiers' home, the other to the towns folk themselves—he will suggest that the governor's chair is too big for Small.

The former senator passed the day in a St. Louis hotel recuperating from the rigors of high pressure campaigning. A throat infection necessitated the cancellation of talks in Mount Vernon and Centralia.

Friends of Lewis Speak.

While Col. Lewis was being treated by a surgeon Judge James T. Burns, candidate for attorney general, and former Congressman J. Nick Perrin continued the invasion of Egypt in his stead.

It was a vagrant village insect, charmed by the eloquence of the colonel and curious to investigate the source of such sonorous tones, that caused all the trouble. It flew into his mouth between the words "infamous" and "politicians" and sought to make its exit just as Col. Lewis was uttering the polysyllable "machinations."

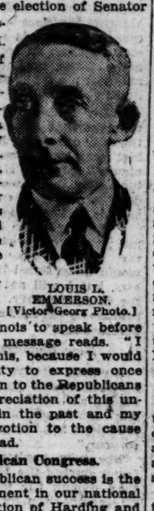

Story of Throat Disaster.

This was a tactical blunder, for the speaker's tongue, oscillating violently in reading the polysyllable, lashed against it and hurled it back. Then it was that the affrighted insect stung him.

"I spat it out," the colonel explained today, "but the little fellow had already got me. That was several days ago, while I was addressing an open air meeting at Windsor. I expect to be all right by tomorrow."

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Asserting that the election of Senator Harding is assured, Will H. Hays, chairman of the national committee, today issued a final campaign plea through Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson, aboard the "harmony special," for the Republicans of Illinois to stand solidly behind the straight state ticket.

"I regret very much indeed that it is impossible for me to get into Illinois to speak before the election," the message reads. "I wish I could do this, because I would like an opportunity to express once more before election to the Republicans of Illinois my appreciation of this unswerving loyalty in the past and my faith in their devotion to the cause in the test just ahead.

Need Republican Congress.

"Complete Republican success is the most essential element in our national welfare. The election of Harding and Coolidge is now assured, but the complete Republican success which will bring the largest consequential national good is only certain with a large working Republican majority in both senate and house.

"I know Illinois will do her part in this, and I earnestly urge the Republicans of Illinois to leave nothing undone which can be honestly performed to make overwhelming the majority in Illinois for Harding, Coolidge, McKinley, Small, Sterling, yourself, Russel, and all the state and congressional candidates."

Calls Lewis Gay Deceiver.

Len Small also issued an appeal to the voters in which he characterized the nonpartisan plea of James Hamilton Lewis as "a typical Democratic trick to deceive the electorate of Illinois into an indorsement of the Wilson-Cox-Lewis war league."

He warned against Democratic waste in the state as well as the nation and pointed again to his record as state treasurer, claiming to have converted a Democratic deficit into a balance of over $19,000,000 in the state treasury.

The candidates talked to a large noon hour crowd, which filled the Majestic theater in Peoria. Other stops were made at Urbana, Farmer City, Leroy, Pekin, Canton, Bushnell, and Macomb, winding up with the meeting here tonight.

LANDIS IGNORES RED THREAT AND FLAYS RADICALS

Note Put in Auto Scorned at Teachers' Meet.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Judge K. M. Landis of Chicago, speaking before 3,000 school teachers at their annual convention this afternoon, made a fiery attack on the conduct of the Socialist party during the war less than an hour after he had received a threat against his life if he made a speech against the radical movements.

The note, which was unsigned, was thrown into the auto in which Judge Landis was riding.

Warning to Judge.

It said:

"For the last time, you are warned to keep your damned mouth shut concerning charges that you have made against radical movements in Chicago and other cities in which you have spoken."

In his address Judge Landis said that the opposition of the Socialist party to the government during the war was responsible for the fact that the bodies of thousands of American soldiers are now in France. He asserted that the Socialists had used "free speech" as a cloak from behind which they hindered the United States in the prosecution of the war.

Hits "Evasive Candidates."

Both the Republicans and Democrats were criticized by Judge Landis, who said national candidates are evading vital issues, charging that neither candidate has said what he will do regarding legislation that will keep alive the eighteenth amendment to the constitution.

He said both the Republican and Democratic platforms fail to mention "several things of the greatest importance to the welfare of our nation and the welfare of the world." The two candidates, he added, also fail to mention these problems.

DIES FROM FALL IN HOSPITAL.

Pike Bernier, 50 years old, of Oregon, Ill., died in the Alexian Bros.' hospital yesterday of injuries suffered when he fell down four flights of steps in the hospital.

NUTSHELL POLITICS

Republican national headquarters announced that Charles E. Hughes will speak Thursday night at Terre Haute, Ind.

Twelve million specimen and regular ballots are now being printed by the election commissioners for use in Chicago. Of these, 4,000,000 are candidate ballots, 4,000,000 judicial ballots, 2,000,000 proposition ballots, 1,000,000 specimen ballots, and another 1,000,000 special proposition ballots for certain park districts.

Ferdinand W. Peck, veteran Chicagoan, Republican for sixty-five years, will lose his vote. He failed to register and found yesterday it is too late to get on the books.

A Sheridan Road Michael Rosenberg Boosters' club has been organized with Mrs. Maurice Rothschild as president and Mrs. Isadore Liederman as secretary to aid the Democratic candidate for sanitary district trustee.

Michael K. Sheridan, Democratic candidate for member of the board of review, in his speeches said he is in favor of extending the time for protesting tax assessments.

PARTY IN CABIN CLEW TO DEATH OF BANK RUNNER

Camden, N. J., Oct. 22.—Search for the slayers of David S. Paul, the Camden bank messenger, whose body was found in dense woods a week ago, ten days after he disappeared with $70,000, was widened today.

Efforts will be made to find out more about a cabin in the woods near where Paul's body was found. Prosecutor Wolverton's party located it today, but did not have time to investigate reports that it was the scene of a gay "party" in which Paul and several other persons, including a woman said to have been garbed in green velvet, participated some time between the disappearance of the bank employé and the discovery of his body.

HAAS DEFENDS HIS HANDLING OF TORRENS BUREAU

Replies to Charges of the Real Estate Board.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

The Cook County Real Estate board has made a vigorous attack upon the administration of the Torrens system by County Recorder Joseph F. Haas.

One of the charges is that it "has been lax and inefficient." No evidence of either has been obtained. If anything, the information collected indicates there has been an unusual effort to make holeproof the results of the Torrens administration.

This requires time. The real estate man who wants quick action complains. Some of them assert they can get much faster service from the Chicago Title and Trust company, the private competitor of the county, and have switched from the county to the private company.

Board Charges Delays.

The board also charges that the administration is "full of technical objections and interminable delays."

There have been delays. To get a parcel of land registered under the Torrens system at present takes about two months.

"That is not my fault," asserted J. Scott Mathews, chief examiner of titles of the Torrens system. "We expedite the work as much as possible. We make only such objections as are proper and right adequately to protect the property owner. Sometimes these delay the real estate man in collecting his fees and commissions. If we are wrong in our objections the real estate man can have them set aside within an hour. There is a special judge to hear his case."

Members of the board gave a number of instances of "technical objections" and Mr. Mathews came back with counter charges. It would require unobtainable space to explain them.

However, there has been avoidable delay, but Mr. Haas asserts the cause is lack of abstract makers and a modern abstract plant. Since the title and trust company boosted the price on probate and chancery features of abstracts, the recorder claims that the abstract business of the county has increased and he is without enough abstract makers to keep up with the business. Then, too, he asserted that the abstract plant should be brought up to date.

"May I also call your attention to the fact that the recorder's office was the only one which had an examination last year by the bureau of public efficiency," said Mr. Haas. "That is some indication that I would like to find any defects, remedy them, and give the best service possible to the public.

"The men who are now attacking me, just before election, bitterly fought my election four years ago. They would be satisfied if I fired Mr. Mathews, but I will not discharge any one for doing his duty. These critics have repeatedly opposed sufficient help to expedite work."

New Registrations Fewer.

Another charge is that "those interested in the system have been rebuffed and discouraged, and the law has been so administered that new registrations are becoming less from year to year."

The new registrations have been fewer during the Haas administration than during the previous four years. The comparison by county years is as follows:

Year.	No.	Year.	No.
1913	966	1918	442
1914	916	1919	608
1915	781	*1920	617
1916	1,055
1917	952

*To Oct. 1 only.

One reason for the decrease, according to Mr. Mathews, was a Supreme court decision Oct. 24, 1917, making it more difficult and expensive to register property under the Torrens system.

Haas Opposes Decision.

This decision was opposed not only by the recorder and state's attorney but by attorneys for the Cook county real estate board, Torrens land title registration, and the forest preserve district.

Another reason for the decrease was the slump in the real estate market due to war conditions, according to Mr. Mathews. He added: "Mr. Haas was no more responsible for the war conditions than for the slump in business of the private title guarantee companies throughout the country. The four years previous to Mr. Haas was a steady rising market, culminating in a great real estate boom in 1916.

"The critics of Mr. Haas have prevented him from getting an appropriation to advertise the Torrens system, which his predecessor had. To that extent they have prevented growth of the new registrations. The business of Torrens system as to transfers, trust deeds, certificates issues has more than doubled."

2 WOMEN HELD IN CONNECTION WITH BANK HOLDUP

Cleveland, O., Oct. 23.—Two women, said to be the mother and sweetheart of Albert Joyce, the bandit who was killed during the battle yesterday, following the attempted robbery of the Cleveland Trust company's branch at Bedford, were held by the police tonight for investigation.

Jewelry worth $25,000, including unset diamonds valued at $17,000, and $3,500 in cash were found on the elder woman, according to the police. The women were seized when they attempted to get possession of Joyce's body.

George "Jigs" Losteiner, said to be the leader of the bandits, and two of his confederates, Harry Stone and Orville Taylor, were indicted today. The four members of the gang who escaped, are being hunted.

Greetings, Pete!

CAMEL CITY—U.S.A.
(or, Winston-Salem, N.C., according to the map.)

Here I am tonight in Winston-Salem where more tobacco is manufactured than in any other place on the face of the earth! And, W-S is some speed city, as well as the largest in North Carolina! They're rushing up a million dollar hotel, got a corking league ball team, regular skyscraper buildings and as much action as you'll look for in New York!

When I knocked off for the day, I buzzed around like a hungry bee in a buckwheat field—up and down long streets of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. factories!

As the Reynolds enterprise proved out more and more gigantic and I talked with more men about it, I got the real and true answer as to why Camels are so good and so entirely different from any other cigarette! I'll spin it for you, old top—listen:

Every man I talked with made the one big point that the officials and the more than 350 Reynolds foremen have an inborn knowledge of the tobacco business; that (putting it into a North Carolina expression) they were virtually "born and raised in a tobacco patch"; that they know tobacco; how to grade it, blend it, and how to manufacture and sell it!

And, what's most important of all, Pete, these Reynolds folks sure give men what they want—the best that can be produced! Why—Peter, it took months to perfect Camels Turkish and Domestic blend—and that refreshing flavor—and wonderful mild, mellow body—before a single Camel cigarette was sold! Guess that will repay your interest, old liberty bond!

Tomorrow, I'm going to meet some of the Reynolds folks. Got to see inside of those factories!

And, you know me!

Shorty.

LEWIS TO OPEN GOVERNOR FIGHT HERE TOMORROW

Eight Days' Whirlwind Campaign Planned.

James Hamilton Lewis' Chicago campaign for governor will start tomorrow and continue until midnight of election eve. During the eight days he will speak at least four times a day. The local Lewis campaign will open with a nonpolitical meeting tomorrow afternoon in the Woods theater. Miss Jane Addams of Hull house has arranged the meeting for Mrs. Pethwick - Lawrence of London and Mrs. Yella Fortuka of Vienna, who are touring the United States in behalf of prisoners of Jewish, Bohemian, Polish, and Slavonian descent held by the Russians. Miss Addams requested the former senator to speak.

MRS. JAMES W. MORRISSON.

After the Woods theater meeting Mr. Lewis will speak at Nativity church hall, Thirty-seventh street and Union avenue, and at the Tilden High school, Forty-seventh place and Union avenue, in the afternoon. In the evening he will speak at a nonpolitical meeting held by the Morgan Park Sunday Evening club at One Hundred and Twelfth street and Hoyne avenue. Former Mayor Carter H. Harrison and former Gov. Edward F. Dunne will also speak at the Nativity church hall meeting.

Mrs. James W. Morrisson, who seconded the nomination of Herbert Hoover for president in the Republican national convention, announced she will support Gov. James M. Cox.

"Believing, as I do, that the league is the paramount issue, I see no other alternative than voting for Gov. Cox—which I intend to do," she said. "It may be true the Democratic party has failed as an instrument of government since the armistice, but is this not due to the fact that the executive and the congress have been of different political faiths?"

George E. Cole, former president of both the Legislative and the Municipal Voters' league and for years a Republican leader, also announced he will support Cox.

"As a matter of Christian citizenship I believe in the league of nations, now without reservations," he said.

Crowe Gets Strong Allies; Igoe Hears Good Reports

Organization of two new clubs to further the candidacy of Judge Robert E. Crowe for state's attorney were reported yesterday.

Several former assistant state's attorneys, Republicans and Democrats, representing every administration of the office since 1896, formed one of the clubs. They are all men of long experience in campaigning and announced they will take the stump early in Judge Crowe's behalf.

John E. Northup was elected president of the club. Other officers are: Vice presidents, Judges David M. Brothers, Victor P. Arnold, and Robert E. Twiney; secretary, Malcolm B. Sterrett; and treasurer, James R. Quinn.

The other newly formed organization is "The Board of Trade Robert E. Crowe club." It reports more than 800 members. Edward Earl O'Neill was elected chairman; J. C. Yore, president; J. R. Meyer, vice president, and E. A. Peterson and J. Spellman, secretaries. The directors are F. G. Jackson, George Forbes, N. Swanson, Charles Moore, D. W. Kohler, A. Berinjer, M. J. Ryan, M. Singer, James Watt, William Hall, J. P. Garrity, T. Otto, N. J. Morris, William Howard, F. E. Krieg, Charles Tracey, William Fenton, H. S. Gelderman, J. A. Creighton, J. Fleming.

Judge Crowe in his speeches last night stated he has been informed that his opponent's supporters are conspiring to cast fraudulent votes for their candidate. Judge Crowe pledged that if an attempt is made to carry out the plot, somebody will go to the penitentiary. He said he purposes to put a stop to election frauds.

Barratt O'Hara, defeated for governor in the recent Democratic primary and an ex-service man, was a visitor at the headquarters of Michael L. Igoe, Democratic candidate for state's attorney, yesterday, according to a statement sent out by Igoe managers. Maj. O'Hara conveyed the information that service men are lining up for Igoe in large numbers. He said:

"This fight presents aspects to them which in their judgment are as important as any of the battles they fought in France to make the world safe for democracy."

Igoe managers also announced the formation of several clubs to boost his campaign. Among them are a Board of Trade club, a South Water street club, composed of commission men, a baseball players' club, and the Young People's Igoe club, composed of department store and loop office girls.

Mrs. Anna L. Smith, Democratic national committeewoman from Illinois, and Miss Sara Hopkins issued statements claiming a big swing of women to the Igoe standard and predicting his triumph.

Mr. Igoe in his speeches last night assailed Judge Crowe because his campaign letterheads carry the words: "Chambers, Judge Robert E. Crowe, Criminal court of Cook county."

"But what can you expect from a judge," Mr. Igoe said, "who publicly declares that he is rejoiced because he has the support of the city hall gang? With such associations, it is not difficult to understand why this particular judge violates the traditions of the judicial office and the ethics of his profession, and also why he is seeking to intimidate all men and women who are opposed to him."

HYDE PARK, PREY OF THEFTS, PLANS POLICE PROTEST

Hyde Park residents are arranging for a meeting to protest against the apathetic attitude of the police toward crime in that locality, Sidney Kahnweiler, an accountant, of 5218 Ingleside avenue, said last night.

More than a dozen house robberies have been committed in his block within a month, he said. His home was robbed of $1,600 in jewelry Sept. 22. Other victims are Louis Rosenbluth, 5134 Ingleside avenue; Fred Guggenheim, the packer, 915 Hyde Park boulevard; John Lamfron, 5131 Ingleside avenue, and Louis M. Grossman, 5215 Drexel boulevard.

A woman tenant saw a burglar in the apartment of Samuel Weiss, 5122 Ingleside avenue, Mr. Kahnweiler said, and telephoned the Hyde Park police. The burglar escaped after the police had arrived and surrounded the building.

Emmerson Refuses to Act in Judicial Dispute

Secretary of State Emmerson at Springfield yesterday declined to receive fresh certifications from the "old" and the "new" Republican county committees of Cook county as to nominations for the Circuit court vacancies. He repassed the buck to the Cook county electoral commission, consisting of County Judge Burns, County Clerk Sweitzer, and State's Attorney Hoyne. Whether this board will reopen the matter will be decided today. Meantime the printing of the specimen and official ballots, without the names of the Republican judicial nominees, is well under way.

ESCAPE AMID BULLETS.

Two men who had smashed a large pane of glass in the Levin Bros. drug store, 2156 West Division street, at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, made their escape in an automobile after several shots had been fired at them by Detective Sergeants Arneson and Dohney of the West Chicago avenue station. The police believe the men were liquor thieves.

CLUBWOMAN AIDS AS DIRECTOR OF G. O. P. ORATORY

Mrs. Manley L. Fosseen, recently appointed cochairman with Senator New of the Republican speakers' bureau, with headquarters in Chicago, has been identified with civic movements and club activities in Minneapolis. She was the first woman delegate at large to be appointed by popular acclamation, and was the first woman given the floor of a national Republican convention. She is also the first woman delegate to be invited by a presidential candidate—Gen. Wood—to make a pre-convention speech for him.

Barrel Factory Burns; Search for Watchman

The four story brick factory of the John Elszner company, 1050 West Austin avenue, barrel and keg makers, was destroyed by fire last night. The loss was estimated at between $100,000 and $150,000 by Fire Attorney John R. McCabe. An investigation is being made. The watchman, who is said to have been in the factory just before the fire, could not be found.

'HAM' AND 'EGG,' CUNNEA VIEW OF GOVERNOR FIGHT

"Gazing on J. Ham Lewis' pink whiskers and the bald dome of Len Small, one gets the impression that the fight for the governorship in this state is a contest between 'Ham' and Egg," said William A. Cunnea, Socialist candidate for state's attorney, at a mass-meeting in the Ashland Auditorium last night.

"One of the chief reforms I will endeavor to bring about if elected is the bonding system," Mr. Cunnea said. "Under our present method the Cook county jail is a school for crime, whose main contributing feature is the 'lay-down' of the prosecution, but in which the excessive bail required is a large element.

"Judge Harry Olson holds that all bail bonds should constitute a lien on real estate. This would mean that all innocent persons and first offenders would either be forced to remain in jail or be handed over to the mercies of professional bondsmen. The object of bail is not to keep a man in jail, but to let him out under surety. Thus Judge Olson's plan would intensify an evil which has already become a civic disaster."

STRATEGY AND THE FLEET.

Not contented with dividing the fleet and thus cutting its value as our first line of defense in two, it is now announced that the navy department intends further subdivisions, and these small squadrons will be sent on cruises to various parts of the world.

If this is a device for tempting youth into the navy, we believe a safer system of recruiting could and should be found. If it is the latest expression of the Daniels idea that the navy is maintained primarily as an educational and recreational institution and not as an institution of defense, we suggest that if we are to submit to this doctrine we could save money by junking the navy, since we are well supplied with colleges, schools, and means of healthful recreation.

These remarks sound ironic, but the folly of Josephus Daniels, and of Mr. Wilson, who is responsible for him, is quite equal to either of these lines of policy, and no other explanation is conceivable except one. Under Daniels the navy is a political instrument, and the division of the fleet is understandable on political grounds.

But if the American people will give even a little thought to our naval condition they will understand the seriousness of the Daniels policy and the need of protest against its demoralizing influence. The fleet is our first line of defense and, it is obvious to common sense, should always be ready. Our inner lines may be less prepared and must be in time of peace, but only on condition that the outer line stands. The navy's defense function is to keep the enemy off until we are ready to meet him. If it is divided and scattered it cannot do so. The navy should be always ready—yet our navy is divided, undermanned, and consequently unready. Expert naval judgment opposes this, but civilian common sense unaided will perceive the mistake. Explanations which do not explain have been offered. The conditions are not remedied. They put the nation in unnecessary danger and set a precedent for which, if it is not repudiated, we shall sooner or later surely pay in wasted lives and national humiliation.

The most plausible excuse offered for dividing the fleet is that to concentrate all our ships in the Pacific while the California question is pending would be taken as provocative by Japan. The same kind of excuse was made from 1914 to 1917 for not improving our army and navy. We were told we must not appear to threaten Germany. Did that folly get us anything? It got us the reputation of weakness, and we paid for our delay in thousands of unnecessary deaths when at last our supposed weakness was challenged.

Great Britain, foreseeing the possibility of war in Europe, concentrated her great fleet in the North sea. That saved her. Would the Germans have refused to attack if her fleet had been divided as ours is?

The present administration holds to the pacifist theory that weakness is protection against attack and that prepared strength provokes attack. History, including recent events, shows that weakness provokes aggression, while strength, though it cannot prevent attack, diminishes its probability and mitigates its consequences when it occurs.

No one wants to give Japan just ground for alarm. But we carry our respect for her official sensibilities too far if we allow them to dictate a strategic disposition of our fleet which will put us at her mercy if she chooses to make war. We have full right to base our entire fleet at any point of our coast or possessions which seems best for our interest. When it is considered that our policy is clearly defensive and that no question pending between us and Japan calls for an aggressive policy on our part, Japan has no standing for objection to any disposition of the fleet which is strategically sound.

There are three great existing naval powers—Great Britain, the United States, and Japan. We have, therefore, two great naval fronts, the Atlantic and the Pacific. War with Great Britain is so improbable that it is not profitable for us to maintain a large force in the Atlantic. Our only serious complications are threatened in the Pacific, and it is there, or at least at the canal, that strategic reasons direct our naval force to be concentrated.

Japan has no more reason to protest against the efficient concentration and disposition of our navy in Pacific waters than we have to demand that she divide her fleet and put part of it in the Indian ocean or the Atlantic. Her right and our right is to treat our respective naval defenses according to sound principles of strategy.

But our naval secretary is an inland newspaper editor who is a pacifist and politician. His executive and political chief is a statesman who has always been willing to gamble with American interest and security for the sake of a doctrinaire internationalism. We suppose the crime of the demoralized and divided fleet and the folly of the policy of deliberate weakness and attack-inviting conciliation cannot be done away with until the end of the present administration. But it should be, and we are confident will be, among the first acts of the new Republican government to restore our naval efficiency and otherwise make clear to the world that aggression against us cannot be undertaken with impunity.

THE DIPLOMATIC HOOTCH.

Secretary of State Colby says that he will go to court to prevent the customs officials of the treasury department from searching the baggage of diplomatic agents and officers of other countries arriving in the United States.

The customs people are hunting for hootch in the belongings of people coming to the land of the free, and they decline to recognize international law, which makes the belongings of a diplomat immune.

It is a wise law, at least for the United States. Our government has to deal with these notables and agents from other parts, and it deals with them to promote the interests of the United States. They are mad when they are sent here, preferring to go to Roumania, Monaco, Sweden, or other livelier parts—even to Albania, Armenia, or Liberia—and it is unwise to make them madder.

A quart of liquor taken away from a diplomat might wreck a treaty, and a case might cause a war. It is infuriating to an already disheartened diplomat, who, as he sights the statue of Liberty, concedes he is out of luck, to have his baggage frisked. It is a blunder that is worse than a crime to take away his sustenance.

It is not only an outrage upon international observance and an affront to courtesy, but it is a breeder of international difficulty. Our government is so imperfectly articulated these days that the best departments in controversy can do is to sue each other. The idea of a central executive head to turn one department in one direction and another in another, to prevent collision, seems to have passed.

Now they tell each other where each gets off and neither gets off. Mr. Colby, who must deal with the diplomats, might take an appeal to the league of nations if we had gone in, but he lacks that advantage.

HOPE FOR THE FIFTY WARD LAW.

The neutrality of the Democratic county committee and the apathy of the Thompson Republican faction upon the proposed fifty ward law promise to leave the measure to the unbiased judgment of the voters. This being the case, there is reason to believe it will be adopted.

The plan will mean a saving of nearly $500,000 to the city in the cost of elections alone every two years. It is also likely to save the salary of twenty aldermen and a number of clerks and assistants. So much for the cash value of the proposal.

In the business of good government it is likely to be of even greater value. As has been pointed out, the present system of two aldermen to a ward results in division of responsibility, which reacts to the disadvantage of their constituents. Each can pass the buck to the other. If both vote the same way on a measure, there is no advantage, and if they vote in opposite ways they nullify each other. The wastefulness and delay of such a system is evident.

In the matter of representative government the injustice of the present system is demonstrated by statistics which cannot be refuted. Under it, 35,294 persons in the Twentieth ward have a voice in the council equal to that of 122,731 persons in the Twenty-fifth ward, and 46,288 persons in the First ward have a voice equal to that of 150,244 persons in the Twenty-seventh ward. In other words, a voter from Halsted and Maxwell streets has more than three times the influence in city affairs than a voter has who lives at Broadway and Wilson avenue, or any place in Englewood, Rogers Park, Edgewater, Irving Park, Austin, Logan Square, Ravenswood, Avondale, or Buena Park.

If persons in those districts wish to have an influence in city government equal to that of a South Halsted street peddler, they will vote for the fifty ward plan.

AFTER MR. COX PICKS HIMSELF UP.

There has been nothing more amusing in recent politics than the exchange between Mr. Cox and Mr. Root. After the former has picked himself up in the adjacent county, found his hat, and remembered what hit him and why, we suspect it will dawn upon him that small calibered politicians would better not shoot bird shot at big game. Mr. Cox is suffering from an inordinate enlargement of the ego with a corresponding paralysis of the sense of discretion, or he would not have made his demand for retraction from Mr. Root. Is there no one on his staff who could have convinced him that discretion, in this direction at least, pays better than valor?

What everybody except Mr. Cox saw coming to him has struck, and now it will be interesting to see what the armory of peanut politics will bring forth to cover this comic disaster. Mr. Cox has accused Mr. Root of misinterpreting him. Mr. Root has explained that he only took Mr. Cox at his word when he declared that he was in entire accord with Mr. Wilson. Will Mr. Cox now explain to Mr. Root and to the rest of us whether he is still in accord with Mr. Wilson, who insists upon article X., or has he changed from his former accord, and, if so, in what respect?

Mr. Cox has kept his league intentions, if he has any, in the fog of the Democratic platform phraseology. He can blame no one but himself if we do not know what he stands for. He has said he was for "going in." What does that mean? Does it mean, as Mr. Wilson means it, ratification of article X. and rejection of the principal Lodge reservations? If it does not mean this, what does it mean?

If Mr. Cox doesn't want to be misunderstood, let him tell us what he means.

ENFANTS TERRIBLES.

Sweden, Norway, and Denmark have signed and submitted to the league of nations a demand that the powers composing the league disarm. Something, it may be the climate, has affected the Scandinavian sense of humor. Great Britain, France, and Japan will be looking over the rim of their spectacles at the numerous family of small folks and wondering who was responsible for their earlier bringing up.

Editorial of the Day

PIRACY IN ILLINOIS.

[Louisville Courier-Journal.]

Before the echoes of the fierce primary feud in Illinois had died away the leaders of the Republican party in Illinois—the minions of Thompson and the whilom "crusaders" of Gov. Lowden—sat down together at a dinner in Springfield to conspire for the success of Thompsonism in November.

Before the primary the Lowden clan of Republicans had devoted themselves to denunciation of Len Small per se and Len Small as a Thompson candidate for governor. In Chicago the cry of "Tammany" was raised against Thompsonism. The most vitriolic statements were made in an effort to nominate Mr. Oglesby, the Lowden candidate. And the statements were true! Thompsonism is all its opponents said it was.

As the smoke of the battle clears and Len Small is declared the Republican nominee for governor, the Lowden forces, forgetting their pre-primary principles, conceive their first duty to be the reunion of "the party." They have gathered together in a love feast to nurse Thompsonism to victory—to turn Illinois over to an outfit whose teachings and practices are odious to self-respecting Americans of all creeds and parties.

This is political duplicity of the most flagrant sort. Thompsonism still exists, despite the efforts that will be made to cloak it beneath a party label. It is this sort of thing which sickens decent people with politicians and makes them wonder whether honor and sincerity can exist among that breed.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

A NOT unnatural impatience has driven Mrs. Catt and the General Staff from their neutral attitude; they urge us to support Cox in order to save the League. This, we think, flatters the Republicans, whose opposition to the League will fade when election day is past. Then there is James M. Beck, who denounces "Republican deserters" for putting a super-state above the Constitution; but these mild-mannered gentlemen do not contemplate anything so terrible; they are merely announcing that they are not afraid of the League. The hour before election dawn is as black as a pocket.

He regards it as an interesting fact that there are twenty-six rows of tiles in his bathroom and thirty-two in mine, while all the public lavatories in Holborn have the same number. He knows how many paces it is from any one point in London to any other. I have given up going for walks with him. I am always made so distressingly conscious, by his preoccupied look, that he is counting his steps."

FLEEING FROM POLLENS.

YESTERDAY we published a list of hay fever resorts as reported by the state health officers to the president of the American Hay Fever Prevention association and printed in the public health report for September 24, 1920.

This article also gave the periods of the spring and fall hay fever seasons in the different states. It is true the information is belated, but those who are interested can clip the article and save it for next year. I have come to the conclusion that being belated is a quality of those interested in hay fever, since 99 per cent of the thousands who write in here about hay fever postpone writing until they are sick or are about due to be sick.

The article from which I quoted also gave the various grasses, flowers and weeds responsible for hay fever in the different states. What a person is driving at when he goes to a hay fever resort is to get away from the pollens which cause his trouble. He may run away from all pollens by going to sea, by marooning himself on some seagirt rock or he can spend his hay fever period in the mountains above the snow line.

As one runs through the list of resorts he notes that the aim is to change flora. Most of the resorts are high up in the mountains—high enough to be away from the vegetation of the section when the disease prevails.

Another type of resort is located on a rocky peninsula partly surrounded by broad expanses of water. At that, finding a hay fever resort is a good deal of a gamble. A person hears that a certain resort has been satisfactory to some friend. The next year he goes and gets no relief.

What is the explanation? The first man had hay fever caused by pollen from some family of plants not present in large numbers near the resort. The second man had a sensitiveness to plants which grew in some abundance near the resort. That man lost the money he paid for railroad fare and hotel bills because he did not go to the bottom in analyzing his own case.

That was the whole story. What could he have done? The proper way for him to have proceeded was to have had skin tests made to determine what plants were poisonous to him. He should then have taken a list of hay fever causing plants in each state such as was published in the public health reports for September 24, 1920, and with this list before him picked out the resort suited to his case.

PULLING TEETH TO SAVE EYES.

Mrs. J. H. R. writes: "About July 1 my right eye appeared to have a large spot, or I might call it a blur, which affected the sight. At the time I thought it might be a cold or possibly a strain. After two weeks' annoyance I consulted an eye doctor, who pronounced it a serious case of glaucoma. He advised an X-ray picture to be taken of my teeth. The picture showed a number of teeth in an infected condition, and I was advised to have them removed at once with great care, in order to save my sight. After several weeks of medical treatment of my eyes, the teeth extracted, and gums healed, I am cured of glaucoma without an operation."

REPLY.

Not all cases of glaucoma can be cured in this way. You were lucky in finding an alert, well posted, skillful eye specialist.

BETTER BE EXAMINED.

J. S. H. writes: "If a person is told he has a touch of consumption, and later joins the army and has the advantage of living outdoors for two years, do you suppose that helped him any? Is he, after two years of living outdoors, out of danger? Is he likely to get it again if he still has the bacteria? He says he is out of danger. Is that true? Once in a while he coughs a little. Otherwise he feels perfectly well. Even if he has the bacteria, will they develop into anything serious?"

REPLY.

1. He could not have had much consumption or the examining surgeons would have found it and rejected him.

2. Some soldiers with a little consumption build up under the health producing life of a soldier. Others break down under it. Much depends on the privations and exposures of the campaign.

3. A consumptive whose disease has been arrested for two years is not yet out of danger. Instead of guessing and speculating, this man should be carefully examined at one of the municipal dispensaries or at a public health hospital, if accessible.

BETTER BE TREATED.

Mrs. T. B. writes: "What causes twitching of the eyelids, extending to the cheek and mouth, drawing the eye almost shut, and jerking around the mouth at times? Any movement of the muscles, such as talking, eating, etc., makes them twitch and jerk more. Is there any cure? Will an electrical vibrator be of any benefit? Is this trouble liable to grow worse?"

REPLY.

It is probable that you have a spasmodic tic. Probably you are too old, too settled, and too stable for one of the so-called hysteria jerks to which younger girls are prone. Better have your physician get to work on you.

DOESN'T NEED OPERATION.

Sam writes: "1. What can be done to cure varicocele, besides an operation? 2. I am a member of a gymnasium which I attend three times a week and take part in boxing, handball, and basketball. Is it possible that such exercising would be harmful to me?"

REPLY.

1. [a] Wear a suspensory. [b] Getting married is the best cure.
2. No. Varicocele is of slight importance.

MERCURY TREATMENT BETTER.

X. writes: "What is the proper treatment for inherited syphilis?"

REPLY.

Mercury and the arsenic preparations. As a rule there is no emergency, and the slower, safer mercury methods are quite as efficacious as the quicker, more dramatic, and more dangerous arsenic ones.

HOLDING HIM UP.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

As but limited space can be given letters in this department, writers must confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Unless they give their full names and addresses their letters will not be considered. No manuscript will be returned unless the writer sends postage for that purpose.

BUT WILSON REFUSED THE RESERVATION.

Cleveland, Oct. 12.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I have a suggestion to make with reference to the publicity you are giving article X. of the covenant. It seems to me that a good way to make a case against the article, and if followed out the whole covenant, is to set forth the text, as you have done, then the text of the reservation to the article.

I would then briefly analyze the reservation. It reserves to the congress the right to determine its action under the article; to use its own judgment and constitutional power in such matters. The alternative is that this right is waived and the power to decide such questions lies in the league.

I would then set forth the question of Senator Brandegee, I believe, at the conference with the president, whereupon the president dodged the issue of a legal responsibility but forever destroyed the Democratic stand that the powerful moral obligation would not draw us into every dispute in the old world.
T. C. JOHNSON.

THE RETAIL PRICE OF MEAT.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Again referring to the retail price of meat here in Chicago: If the price of $15.62 represents the average price (the range being $8.50 to $28) per hundredweight the packers are receiving, and that is the printed price of Oct. 16, then the retail dealers are certainly profiteering, for with round steak at 35 cents and some other cuts at 60 cents the public is being imposed upon.

What organization should the people look to for assistance, and what method will bring prices down?
CHARLES DAY MOORE.

PARTY LINES.

Glencoe, Ill., Oct. 14.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Before the primaries had been held this year Lieut. Gov. Oglesby and Len Small were political enemies. Mr. Oglesby made charge after charge against Mr. Small and against the city hall crowd that was backing him. Now Mr. Oglesby says that he will support Mr. Small for governor in the coming elections. Such a statement means much. It means one of two things. Either Mr. Oglesby's accusations were false or Mr. Oglesby is now asking us to support a man whom he believes to be an agent of bad government and a public enemy. Supposing that Mr. Oglesby's accusations are true, and they probably are, I do not understand how a man of his type can now look us in the face and ask us to vote for the tool of Blowing Bill.

As a moral example and political standard I heartily approve of Mr. Harlan's independent candidacy for the governorship. If there were any possibility of his election I would not hesitate to do everything possible for him, but since the Republican vote will be divided while the Democratic vote will be a unity, I feel that the best thing to do is to support James Hamilton Lewis. Let us break down party lines in favor of a state government responsible to the people and not to the city hall.
S. S. SMITH.

FOUR PER CENT ON SAVINGS DEPOSITS.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—According to an item in The TRIBUNE, Chicago banking firms are enjoying unusual prosperity. The banks do not even ask the board of review to reduce their taxes. That the banks are piling up earnings no one can question. Therefore, we, the depositors, should share in the prosperity of the banks and receive at least 4 per cent on our savings. Other cities are more fortunate than Chicago. Many outside banks pay 4 per cent. Let the Chicago bankers give a thought to this and make the millions of depositors happy by giving what is due them. P. S.

COX'S PROMISES.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Gov. Cox promises like an insurance agent. Insurance policies have written thereon: "The company is bound by the terms of the policy, and not by representations of agents."

The Wilson league is written in the Democratic platform. Representations by Gov. Cox do not signify and are to be disregarded.

Gov. Cox cannot be permitted to run on the Republican platform.
GEORGE R. WALKER.

A NEW TAG DAY IDEA.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Why not make election days tag days? During the war and since you will have noticed that on meritorious tag days the average citizen was quick to acquire his decoration. He didn't feel altogether comfortable without one. Well, why not make use of the tag to get the nonvoters? The badge of good citizenship would be handed each voter as he deposits his ballot. And as he follows his vocation, with head erect, his voter's tag would be the silent but forceful accuser of all those who had failed in a cardinal duty and a great privilege.
THEODORE HOHENADEL.

COPPERING THE FALL IN PRICES.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—It is interesting to note that the highest quotation for coffee on the New York exchange today is 7.73 cents, compared with a retail price of 30 to 45 cents to the consumer. Some profiteering, I'll say.
FRED MARTIN.

Col. Repington's Diary of the First World War

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

LIEUT. COL. C. à COURT REPINGTON was the military critic of the London Times and later of the Morning Post during the war, and his vigorous complaints about the government's conduct of military affairs resulted in his resignation from the Times and his arrest and fine subsequently for articles in the Morning Post. His experiences as a powerful arm of the unofficial forces which influenced affairs at the time are now put into a two volume reproduction of his diary, called cynically "The First World War." The entries in the record are a fascinating chronicle of events, big and little, and, as the chill attitude and viewpoint of a professional soldier, make an instrument of pacifism, perhaps more potent than the heated works of Barbusse or Sir Philip Gibbs. Extracts taken haphazard from the history, it is believed, will give the reader a better idea of its contents than would comment or review.

COL. REPINGTON.

Sept. 29, 1915. Lunched with Lloyd George. The host in good form; he monopolized the conversation. He was most critical of Lord Kitchener, and said some very severe things about him. The story that Kitchener has had a bad week in the cabinet is confirmed. . . . Dined with Winston, Lady Randolph and Lady Gwendoline Churchill. Winston and I discussed his alleged failures at the admiralty. As for Kit Cradock's fight off Chile, he told me of the coveys of ships which were chasing the Germans, including a Japanese squadron, following them down from the north. Cradock had distinct orders not to fight without the Canopus. But I said that as this was a slow ship Cradock knew that his only chance to fight was without the Canopus; he had taken the most honorable course. . . . Winston then talked of Antwerp, and I saw the telegrams, from which it certainly appeared that the French were prepared to help with a couple of territorial divisions. . . . The whole thing seems to have been a rare bungle into which Winston, apparently encouraged by Kitchener, had thrown himself out of sheer love of adventure.

Oct. 15. Met Sir William Robertson, the new chief of staff, at noon. Viviani, the French prime minister, came over last week and was full of sending 400,000 men to Salonika. The cabinet yesterday agreed to dispatch from France eight divisions to the Mediterranean. Robertson says this is the best way to lose the war. Carson, who threatens to resign, wishes to send an ultimatum to the king of Greece. Oct. 13. Everybody excited about the crisis in the cabinet and about the proposed dispatch of troops to the Mediterranean. The king is reported to be very angry. The question is how to kill the scheme most effectually. . . . Northcliffe sent a man to Joffre today to warn him what was in the wind, and another to Clemenceau who is of our way of thinking. . . . I told Davies, Lloyd George's secretary, that L. G.'s enemies were using his approval of the Salonika adventure in order to prevent him from becoming prime minister.

Oct. 18. Lloyd George, Northcliffe and Jack Cowans lunched with me. L. G. says he has the most unpleasant reports about Russia from Sir George Buchanan. . . . L. G. thinks that our offensive in France has failed with enormous loss, but no one will tell it to the country. . . . Dined with Lady Colebrooke at Claridge's. Mrs. Astor was looking a picture. Lady Cunard had a party at a neighboring table with Lady Randolph and young Horner (recovering from his serious wound). I heard that Cyprus was going to be given to Greece. Rang up my editor and protested strongly.

Oct. 21. Lunched at Prince's grill with Lockett, home from the 2d cavalry brigade in France. Admitted that the whole attack was a failure and laid the blame on Douglas Haig. The error of Neuve Chapelle was repeated. . . . Lunched with Mrs. Leeds. Her boy is being brought up as though he were the son of a poor man. He gets £1 a quarter. Mrs. Leeds explained that nearly all the sons of rich men in America have become vicious and useless from too much wealth. . . . She told me that she had spent $75,000 this year on British war hospitals, and is now keeping thirty of them at the rate of $1,000 a month, which is pretty good for a foreigner. The government charged her not only tax but supertax on these gifts. . . . More hidebound stupidity I never heard tell.

Dec., 1915. An agreeable dinner. Chaplin most amusing, and Curzon full of good stories as usual. During dinner the question whether a cow's ears were in front of or behind its horns, and above them or below them. We all had different views except Chaplin, who had been minister of agriculture, and said he had not the faintest idea.

Jan. 21. Lunched with Lady Paget and met Doris Keane again. Doris Keane was perfectly delightful, and told us all sorts of stories about her play, "Romance." She made a profit of $5,000 last week, and she puts all her success down to Lady Paget and me for having got her to act before the queen. There is no doubt that this play goes deep down into the hearts of all classes, and the wonderful acting of this little lady has conquered London. But it is comical that until Doris acted before the queen no one went to see her and she had lost $35,000. Now all the so-called literary sets think that they have made a great discovery. They have been a lot of snobbish sheep. Doris says that Sheldon must have made 45,000 pounds by his royalties.

Oct. 19. Dined with the McKenna's and Lady Paget. McKenna said America would have all the money and would be the greatest power in the world after the war. J. P. Morgan and others have learned a lot about finance and are now less provincial. . . . Sat on the Tribunal all afternoon. Horrible process of sending fathers of families into the army. Then to the Ritz to dine with Lady Strafford, the Duke of Argyll, Sir Sidney Neville, Lady Lavery, a pretty American, and others. Afterwards a vaudeville and Lady Constance Richardson danced in few clothes and her bare feet. Many fled when Lady C. danced, including Sir William Robertson, who, when asked if he did not think she had a very fine leg, said that it was "just like any other damned leg." . . . Tuesday. Lunched with Arthur Balfour and Lord Robert Cecil. President Wilson's speech to the senate was discussed. Balfour not much impressed by it. He did not know what America meant by freedom of the seas nor why Wilson should resent a victory at the end of the war. . . . Wednesday. Lunched with Nebokoff of the Russian embassy and Gen. Dessino. They said that Japan had been acting as a paid servant of the entente, not as an ally, and I said that the failure to use the magnificent army of a warlike ally with 77,000,000 people was an incredible error. . . . Saturday. Went to Coombes. In the afternoon I took a good walk with Lady Helen. She has a talent for making one confess all of one's views. The Duchess of Marlborough a very pleasant and interesting personality. A good story of Mrs. Asquith, who is reported to have said that if she had been Christopher Columbus and had discovered America she would not have told any one.

Nov. 21, 1917. Dined with Mrs. Astor and met Col. and Mrs. House. The Col. was communicative, which is rare with him. The President must have great confidence in him, as House modified one of the President's messages about the allied war council. House says the President was not aware of all going on here, so he modified the message. He showed the original to Lloyd George, who was "peeved," as House says, because the message was modified. . . . Tuesday. Lunched with Offve, Lady Kitty Somerset, Lady Randolph, and others. Lady Randolph defined sin as "exaggerated inclinations." . . . I saw Capt. Fagalde, who told me there was never less unity than now. We have an aggregate of 3,318,000 men actually in the field abroad, and of these only 2,114,000 are in France, of which only half are fighting troops. This is one reason why we are not winning in France. My difficulties are that Northcliffe tied himself to L. G.'s chariot wheels. I am unable to get the support of the editor of the Times to rouse the country, and I do not think I shall be able to go on with him much longer. . . . The Americans are coming along very slowly. Robertson has just seen Leonard Wood, who says there are not 150,000 men in France, and only 25,000 are arriving per month, which is but half the figure that Joffre promised me . . . America has not yet turned out a single heavy gun, and has been bluffed by M. Thomas into accepting French guns. . . . Feb. 4. Briand the penultimate prime minister of France, came to lunch with me. He does not think that the French look upon the American army as a Messiah or have an exaggerated idea of its powers. He implied that America was not seriously in the war, but I did not agree. . . . I met Gen. Peyton March, a tall, rather grim and soldier-like man, resembling the typical Uncle Sam. He is a fine type. . . . Bee Pembroke says she gave a dance for the Prince of Wales on the night of the last air raid, and although a shrapnel shell came through the kitchen skylight no one turned a hair. Lady Juliet told me that Hillaire Belloc and G. K. Chesterton dined with her that night and were so absorbed by their own conversation that they did not hear the bombs. . . . Lunched with Mrs. Greville and found the Spanish ambassador, Sir Mark and Lady Sykes, Sir Fritz Ponsonby, Lady Arlington, Lord Queenborough, and Lady Cunard. I told the story of Balfour, who on being informed we had lost 1,000 guns replied calmly, "O, really! What a bore!" . . . March 30. Lunched with Jack Cowans and a friend. Jack tells me the 5th army lost 50,000 tons of ammunition. Our losses estimated at 110,000 up to today. . . . Officers back from the front say that our guns mowed down great masses of Germans. We never had such a mark. . . . Robertson has sent off some 45,000 of the A4 boys at 18½ and is very sore about it. In the evening went to Lady Cunard's box to hear "Carmen." Drury Lane crammed. An opera that I love.

Sir Hubert Gough telephoned me and came up to dinner at Maryon. He told me all the story of the 5th army during March 21-28. . . . April 17. We lost Neuve Chapelle Tuesday and yesterday the boche took Wytschaete and Bailleul. Thursday. Dined at Londonderry house; Belle Herbert, Lord and Lady Titchfield, and Walter Long. Benevente had won the Craven stakes at Newmarket and all were delighted, as she was giving the colts weight. Titchfield bored with his father's stable. Says he never wants to see another race horse. . . . April 5. Lunched with Lady Cunard, Judge Lindsey of America and his wife. They seemed very nice people. The Duchess of Rutland and Lady Diana came in. All enthusiastic about rabbit breeding. I believe Lady Diana believes rabbits are carnivorous. . . .

Gen. Pershing inspires me with complete confidence. He is reserved, but frank, clear headed, wise and uncommonly determined. I am not sure that he is always invited to the conferences about the western front; it is a great fault if he is not. Pershing tells Gen. Tom Bridges that the National Guard are as good as the regulars, if not better. . . . The American officers are constantly seeking Wagstaff's advice, they come into his room, one after another, without ceasing. They know very little of practical soldiering. One of them asked him the other day, "Say, colonel, when you have to move troops by rail, what do you do?" . . . Pershing favors the ideals behind the League of Nations, and thinks that if the present plan is scrapped we may have a better substituted. He thinks the future of civilization rests upon the coöperation of England and America.

March 16. Lunched with Ronny Neville and met Mr. Asquith, who was interesting about America. If we made terms with the enemy now he thought, America would be as furious with us as we should have been with France if they had made peace in 1918. The Americans thought that they were going to do a big thing, and they would despise us for giving way when America was about to win the war. Yes, I said, and then there is the future. If we are left to be the sole support of France when Germany is ready to renew the war, then life in England would be intolerable. We must get America right in and responsible for the peace terms, so that if Germany breaks them, America would be involved. Therefore it comes to this, said Asquith, that we must hold out until the Americans are well in. . . .

June 9, 1919. Had a talk with Foch. I asked what had happened to Clemenceau, the Tiger. "Oh," he laughed, "he has never been a Tiger; it is only make-believe. President Wilson heads the conference and does what he likes. I may not have my Rhine frontier because it is against his fine principles, so when war comes again we shall have fine principles in place of a frontier." Foch is sore and bitter on this subject. . . .

"ONE BIG FAMILY" POLICY BRINGING 100% PRODUCTION

Braddock Plant Hitting It Up at Pre-War Clip.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

Braddock, Pa., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Coöperation between workers and management in industry, the big word of the period, gives an object lesson here. Some 7,000 workers in the Edgar Thomson Steel works, most of them ex-strikers—and Braddock, it will be recalled, was one of the storm centers in the steel strike a year ago—are now joyously knocking old production records into smithereens.

Since April 1 they have broken seventy-four plant records. This month they have been "busting" them at the rate of one a day—twetny-one new records in the first twenty days of October, to be exact. The Edgar Thomson works were Carnegie's first steel plant, and the establishment is 45 years old, so the breaking of a record means something, particularly in these days when many industries are still bemoaning a reduced per man output. In somewhat more than six months the men have nailed to the mast thirty new open hearth records, one Bessemer and open hearth combined, thirteen blast furnace records, twenty-three in the rolling mill department, and seven in the foundry, total seventy-four.

Just One Big Family.

The new general superintendent, O. J. H. Hartsuff, under whose direction individual output has moved toward "normalcy" and then some, ascribes it to close coöperation between workers and management. Like Charles Schwab, who once was in charge here, Hartsuff grew up with the works, starting in as a boy of 13. He compresses the secret into seven words—"treat the plant like one big family."

Expert management seems to be the key. It gives emphasis to the fact that management shares responsibility for the post-war sag in productive energy at least 50-50 with labor itself, something that dawned on large employers many months ago.

Close contacts with the men is what is sought. Department heads are taught to ornament their swivel chairs in the general office building as little as possible, but to get out among the workers and restore, as far as is possible in the case of a vast plant, the close relationships which existed in the days of the small shops, when the "boss" worked at the bench with the men.

Policy of Fairness.

Added to that an insistence upon a "treat 'em fair" policy and recognition of the fact that thinking labor wants to do the right thing and give a good day's work for a good day's pay, and one has the chief reasons ascribed for the showing made by the plant. In a word, close coöperation, the human touch.

No higher wages are paid than at other plants, nor have there been any wage cuts since labor became more abundant; the plant is on an open shop basis and, judging from two days spent in Braddock talking with many workers, the force is happy and contented. An esprit has been formed where a year ago there was trouble and discontent, and the men in the works for six months have been "taking their shirts off" for a management that knows working conditions from experience in climbing from the bottom up.

Figures Show Results.

"He's a son-of-a-gun on wheels," is what Braddock says of Hartsuff and his "one big family" policy—and this is how the workers have reacted:

Rolling mill—In April the billet record made in 1915—when the plant was rushed with war orders—was knocked into flinders. The old twenty-four hour record was passed by a margin of no less than 35 per cent; the old weekly record was beaten by 35 per cent; the old monthly record was surpassed by 30 per cent. Right now, in October, the plant is running at a speed that will bring the month's output within 5 per cent of the biggest tonnage it ever put out, in October, 1916. This is despite schedules that are cut up, meaning lost time in adjustment of machines. It is done with the same size equipment and working force, meaning that individual efficiency is almost back to normal; in fact, it is up to pre-war times so far as skilled labor goes, the output of the unskilled being reduced by a considerable labor turn-over.

Bessemer and open hearth combined —Old twenty-four hour record broken by 6 per cent.

World's Open Hearth Record.

Open hearth—Biggest month so far the plant has had. October so far shows a 7.5 per cent increase, if the rate keeps up, over the old record. New record is said to be a world's record for fourteen furnace, basic, stationary type open hearth. The record has been made by the standard number of workers.

Foundry—Best ingot mold records in the foundry's twenty-five years of existence beaten by 10 per cent. For example, No. 1 put out fifty tons more than ever before in twenty-four hours.

Blast furnace—In breaking thirteen old records, some individual furnaces ran 10 per cent higher than the old high mark for a full week stretch.

The management estimates that in the plant as a whole individual efficiency has climbed to about 90 per cent of what it was in pre-war days. The skilled workers and the more permanent labor is estimated to be hitting up a 100 per cent pre-war clip, but the average is cut down by the turnover of common labor.

$2,000 A YEAR FOR TEACHERS IS LABOR PLEA

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Delegates to the Illinois State Federation of Labor convention today voted in favor of a minimum wage of $2,000 a year for teachers, higher taxes for school purposes, and establishment of industrial schools to take the place of part time trade schools. Use of union printed books also was advocated.

Accusing President Lewis of the Mine Workers of America of blocking important legislation in the American Federation of Labor convention at Montreal, President Walker of the state federation entered the discussion of the "one big union" idea.

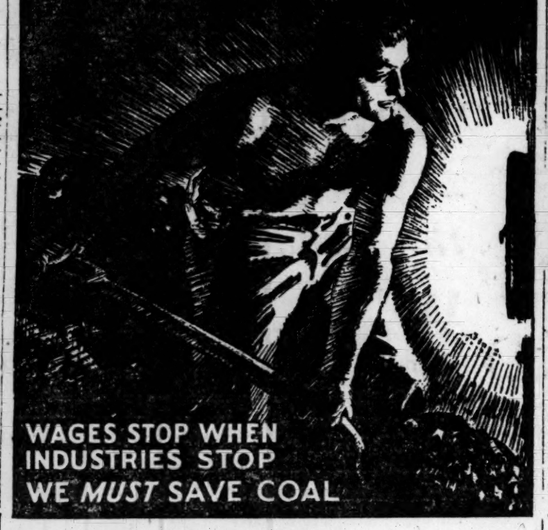

Mr. Walker gave a brief account of the efforts of the United Mine Workers to have action taken by the American Federation of Labor in favor of an industrial union. He advised the delegates to take the matter up with their own internationals.

A resolution favoring the "one big union" plan was rejected by the convention. Delegate Ben F. Parker, supported by the Chicago delegation, was instrumental in having the convention reject the plan.

A telegram was sent to Robert Smillie, leader of the British Miners' federation, praising the efforts of the British miners in their strike and offering aid.

WE MUST SAVE COAL

THE weather man is doing all he can to solve the problem of a coal shortage, but he needs help.

The coal committee of the Association of Commerce is going to help, and has had 20,000 posters printed to display in engine rooms of industrial plants throughout the city. The posters are in red and black and it is the belief of the committee, of which Harry A. Wheeler is chairman, that they will lead to the saving of many tons of fuel in the next few months. They are distributed through association headquarters, 10 South La Salle street.

BUSINESS SKIES OF U.S. NOW CLEAR OF CLOUDS: GARY

New York, Oct. 22.—Business prospects are unusually bright, both in the United States and abroad, Elbert H. Gary, head of the United States Steel corporation, declared in an address before the American Iron and Steel institute today.

"Although this is a time for courage, composure and caution," Mr. Gary said, "the business skies are practically without clouds. As always, there may be showers from time to time, but there is nothing in the atmosphere to indicate the approach of dangerous storms.

"Without referring to individual cases or lines of general business, I believe in many instances prices have been outrageously high. This observation applies more especially to middlemen, so called, and to smaller departments of industry. It also includes employés in certain trades; but it does not pertain under present conditions to the masses of workmen.

"The present tendency is toward a lower, more reasonable and fairer relative basis."

Recent Offerings in Fiction

BY ELIA W. PEATTIE.

A novel of what it would be no exaggeration to term excruciating quality comes from the pen of May Sinclair. The title is "The Romantic," and the term is to be accepted as the Freudian description of an impotent and ecstatic young man, the victim of his prodigal imagination and of his limited capacity. [Macmillan's.]

Time was when May Sinclair was the student of hidden beauty. She has now become the scrutinizer of suppressed desires. As Conan Doyle exploited in fiction his latent capacities as a detective, so Miss Sinclair demonstrates in her free, profane and alarming novels, her abilities as a psychiatrist. Her depiction of this young man, John Roden Conway, who dreamed dreams of courage and love and who could achieve neither, is relentless, skillful, and, the layman in pathology may suppose, accurate.

MAY SINCLAIR.

The story involves a return to the war. The leading characters are carried into the very thick of the Belgian defense and defeat. But have no apprehensions that boredom will be the result of the perusal of this short novel. War plays no part in it save as the background to human action and feeling. No, one will not be bored. Whether or not one will be edified depends entirely upon whether one does or does not enjoy the study of human complexities.

"HIDDEN CREEK"

Almost any one will read a far west novel with a picture on the jacket of a modern young woman looking at a snow covered mountain range, just as almost any one will go to a far west movie. But to say that the visitor to the movie or the purchaser of the novel expects anything new would be going rather too far. It is, therefore, a surprise to find that Katharine Newlin Burt has, in her "Hidden Creek" [Houghton Mifflin company], a number of absolutely novel circumstances and original situations.

Her heroine, Sheila Arundel, the daughter of a dead artist, is taken from the cities of the old world, to the town of Millings, in, say, Montana or Nevada, to be, first the drudge in the home of Sylvester Hudson, then a barmaid in his saloon. A girl of breeding and vision, she accepts without undue horror the vicissitudes of life, and has enough of the spirit of adventure to permit her to escape from the toils when they become dangerous.

It is only when she is housed with a semi-demented ranch woman and menaced with a pack of half-starved wolfhounds that the reader becomes acutely nervous about the outcome. And at one moment it certainly looks as if the heroine were about to be devoured before the reader's eyes. But she escapes again only to encounter fresh dangers. To recapitulate them all would be superfluous, because sooner or later this really palpitating and original story will certainly be presented in the movies.

It is an absorbing tale, with a number of exceptional characters in it—particularly, the saloonkeeper with his odd vision of perfection, and his son, who seemed to be a weak-chinned good-for-nothing, but who turned out to be a poet and a man—in spite of his chin. (As a matter of fact, some of the most obstinate folk have sloping chins, and some of the most compliant chins of aggressive prominence.)

"THE LITTLE HOUSE"

"The Little House" by Coningsby Dawson [John Lane Co.], is a pleasant echo of the war.

CONINGSBY DAWSON.

A little old London house speaks and tells how it had long stood vacant, and how, during an air raid in the terrible days, the caretaker fled to a shelter and left the door of the house standing open. To this came a young war-widow leading her children by the hand, and hid in the empty rooms. Here, too, came a young American officer who had not yet seen service. In the darkness, amid the sound of crashing shells and falling homes, they talked together; then parted, she to take up her saddened life, he to go to the front.

Months passed. The American officer, with but one arm, returned to London. He sought out the little house. It was occupied, and, as he was to discover, by the young widow and her children. He had learned more than one sort of courage during the last few months, and he rang the bell of the little house. A delicate and pensive love story follows. It is like the flowers which grow upon the battlefields.

PRIVATE RULE OF RAIL LINES BRINGS BIG GAIN

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Efficiency of the railroads has increased greatly since their return to private management, according to a summary of operating statistics made public today by the interstate commerce commission.

The report is for the first seven months of 1920, five months of which were under private operation. Comparisons are made with the same period of 1919, when the roads were under government control.

It is declared that the average of 769 net tons per freight train in July not only exceeds the train load in any month since the government relinquished control, but is greater than in any month during federal operation.

Every region, it is said, reports an increase in carload totals, regions as a whole showing an increase over July of last year of 6.1 per cent. The average carload for July was 29.7 tons, which is almost equal to the 30 tons per car set by the railway executives as the ideal which the roads should strive to attain.

The report says the cost per freight train mile shows an increase of 23.2 per cent, compared with last year.

The POLICY of
MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY

PREFACE

THIS business has grown to its present importance only because so many people have learned to trust it. This fact should be your guide in any purchase, but it should be a very special anchor for your faith in the present clothing situation.

LOWERED PRICES

It is true that fall and winter clothing prices have been revised downward, because woolens have gone down and increased production has reduced the cost of labor. Our clothing has been marked accordingly.

PRICE AND VALUE

The ticket on a suit of clothes tells the price, but not the value. Value is determined by the service and satisfaction derived from wear.

Marshall Field & Company clothing is so priced as to assure the best value—which means superior quality and workmanship at the lowest possible price.

STYLE AND QUALITY

Style is an important factor in value, and we give it proper emphasis at all times. Good style, judged by the best standards, characterizes every garment in our displays.

But of even greater importance is quality—quality of materials and construction. Quality goes beneath the surface. For the most part it cannot be judged by an examination of the finished article; it can only be measured accurately through service.

SETTING A STANDARD

Our own specifications cover every step in the making of every one of our men's and young men's suits.

The object of this care is that you may always buy here in confidence; that your faith may be won permanently—not merely to a suit of clothes, but to a principle; and so that when we sell you a suit, we may make not only a sale, but a customer.

CONCLUSION

You may be assured that the prices of our men's and young men's clothing are keeping pace with the changing conditions in the clothing situation.

We are now showing values which will justify the immediate purchase of your fall and winter requirements. THIRD FLOOR

BY JOE DAVIS.

James E. McCoy of Richmond, Va., who, by the way, was born at Flora, Ill., compiled the shortest game in the national pocket billiard tournament at Strauss auditorium yesterday, defeating Matt Long of Los Angeles, 125 to 30, in sixteen innings, in the opening afternoon game.

Mac, who is the dean of the twelve contestants, seemed to revel in the summer atmosphere and romped away from his younger opponent. A run of 27 in the third inning was followed by 40 in the tenth. It seemed certain McCoy would tie the high run of Maturo, but he missed an easy corner pocket shot and fell one shy of the Denver player's mark.

No Safety Forfeits.

The fast game was not marked by a single safety forfeit. McCoy's average of 7 13-16 is the best made to date, but as the play is getting faster as the men get used to the speed of the table, bigger averages are looked for. Scores:

McCOY — 0 0 27 2 5 2 0 2 9 40 2 12 16 0 6 2—125. High run, 40; innings, 16.

LONG — 1 0 1 10 4 3 1 0 3 1 0 2 0 3 1—30. High run, 10; innings, 15.

Weston Trims Seaback.

Charles ("Cowboy") Weston of Pittsburgh outplayed Charles Seaback of Torrington, Conn., 125 to 71, in the second game, which went forty-one innings. Seaback played eleven safeties and had ten forfeits, Weston playing ten safeties with four forfeits. For twenty innings the game was close, Weston leading, 46 to 41. Runs of 11 and 14 in succession put Weston 32 points in front and, nearing the finish, a well played run of 20 put the issue beyond doubt. Scores:

SEABACK—0 0 sc 0 3 15 9 0 1 sc 0 1 1 0 sc sc 1 sc sc sc 7 5 0 0 0 sc 3 0 2 sc 14 0 4 0 0 4 0 0 sc 1 0 0 0—81. Scratches, 10; total, 71; high run, 15; innings, 41.

Rhines in Tie for Lead.

Bert Rhines of Akron, who advanced to a tie for first place, gave another impressive display in defeating James McCoy in the first night game, 125 to 35 in twenty-six innings. The Richmond player had little to shoot at, Rhines showing fine ability to gather and loose balls and then leave his opponent in difficult positions. Scores:

McCOY — 0 2 sc sc 0 10 1 0 0 sc 0 0 0 5 sc 0 0 0 0 0 13 9 sc 0 0 0 0 0—40. Scratches in pocket, 9; forfeits, 2; total, 35. High run, 13; innings, 26.

Clarence Safford took the final night game from Matt Long, Los Angeles, 125 to 77, in forty innings.

RUMOR BASEBALL OFFER TO LANDIS

Although the proposed reorganization of the government of baseball is a long way from being a certainty, Federal Judge K. M. Landis is reported to have been approached with an offer of the chairmanship of the new body, a position which will pay $25,000 annually. It was said yesterday that a representative of Charles Comiskey, Sox owner, had discussed the proposition with the judge. Last spring when the chairmanship of the present commission was vacant Landis was mentioned for the place, but announced that he was not a candidate.

GASOLINE ALLEY—A FROSTY MORNING

INTERNATIONAL TO FIGHT NEW LEAGUE IF IT TRESPASSES

New York, Oct. 22.—David L. Fultz, president of the International league, announced today that any attempt to include cities of the International circuit in the proposed twelve club amalgamation of the National and American leagues would be opposed by his organization.

"It is hardly conducive to a restoration of confidence in the honesty of baseball that a suggested attempt should be made to violate not only a definite agreement to respect minor league territory but to violate a tradition as long standing and as firmly grounded as the game itself," he said. "Without wishing in any way to enter into the major league controversy, we are forced to say that if either faction attempts to invade such territory it will bring upon itself legal action."

President Fultz's statement was evoked by printed interviews with major league club owners, intimating that clubs in cities such as Baltimore and Toronto would be available to complete a twelve club league composed of the present eight National league teams and the New York, Chicago and Boston clubs of the American league.

IOWANS DIVIDE INTERCOLLEGIATE GOLFING HONORS

Two Iowa players shared the honors of the first day's play in the renewal of the Western Intercollegiate Golf championship at Olympia Fields yesterday. Rudy Knepper, Hawkeye state champion, representing the University of Chicago, finished 5 down to par over the No. 1 course, and has a lead of 1 up, over Robert McKee, former Iowa champion, representing Drake university.

Drake Leads Chicago.

Those players led their respective universities in the two man event. McKee paired with F. B. Dickinson, who finished 11 down, put Drake three points ahead of Chicago. Knepper was partnered by George Hartman, twice holder of the Chicago city championship. George finished 15 down, leaving the Maroon pair 20 down and three points behind the Hawkeye team.

The Chicago team, largely through the fine play of Knepper, was 1 up on Drake at the luncheon interval, being 5 down. McKee also played finely in the morning, the other players being about on even terms. Hartman slumped in the afternoon round.

Ohio and Michigan Tie.

Ohio State and Michigan tied at 34 down, Illinois and Wisconsin being 4 down. The second half will be played today.

WOODS and WATERS
By LARRY ST. JOHN

.. FLORIDA NOTES.

"BEGINNER'S luck" still pursues us. Standing on the beach the other day we watched some surf casters at "work." One of them asked us to hold his rod while he went up for a chew of tobacco. We caught a small sea catfish, rebaited, and cast out. When the owner of the rod returned we had a twenty pound channel bass in the surf and finally landed him—our first attempt at surf fishing. Since then we have taken a big one every day we have tried it, our largest going thirty pounds.

* *

The channel bass, redfish, or red drum is a fine game fish. Anglers who have caught both say that they are equal to the striped bass, so eagerly pursued by surf fishermen on our North Atlantic coast, with the added advantage of being more plentiful and not subject to whim, tide, and other conditions. It takes from 15 to 30 minutes to land a twenty pound channel bass and you are fighting every minute; they do not sulk and they do not spar for time, although sometimes you wish they would. They are good eating, too, being something like halibut in texture and flavor.

* *

The most interesting things we have seen in Florida are the sand pipers, that feed on the beach. They are canny little rascals and know a whole lot more about wave action than we do. They will follow a receding wave, picking up food as they go, and then run back, and it is seldom that they get their feet wet or have to take to their wings. It would not be so remarkable if all the waves were alike, but they are not; some prove to be "duds," while others are regular swashbucklers that come in fifteen or twenty feet farther than you expect.

BIG 10 TEAMS IN 3 GREAT FIGHTS TO STAY IN RACE

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Three great battles, in which five unlisted western conference elevens will be contestants, and the great intersectional struggle between Center college of Danville, Ky., and Harvard at Cambridge will command attention of football fans today.

The Big Ten games which will determine the elevens which will struggle for the championship later, bring Chicago and Iowa together on Stagg field, Illinois and Michigan at Ann Arbor, and Wisconsin and Ohio State at Columbus.

To all appearances, the six conference elevens which go into action against each other are nearly evenly matched. They have been coached to the height of midseason football efficiency, and the players have been given to understand what depends upon the results, which in most cases will make or mar the season.

Illini Strong All Around.

The Illini, 1919 champions, who decisively defeated Iowa last Saturday, will meet the best that Yost can produce. Coach Zuppke has another powerful eleven which will be hard to beat. His combination of the open and close attack, which his players execute faultlessly, make the eleven a great ground gaining machine.

In addition, Illinois is well fortified in the field goal kicking department, especially with Ralph Fletcher, who is an accurate place kicker. His brother Bob, who won the championship for his team last year by defeating Ohio State by the field goal route, also can be pressed into service. On defense Illinois will be just as strong.

May Be Smashing Game.

Both teams will employ a smashing offense which will be varied by occasional forward passes. The aerial attack, however, will not be resorted to if the straight formations make the necessary distance. Yost has seen Illinois in action and knows the plays the Wolverines will be compelled to stop. With each eleven fortified with reliable punters, clean handling of kicks may be one of the deciding factors.

Wisconsin, which gives every indication of being the strongest eleven developed at Madison in recent years, must play its best football to entertain hopes of winning from Ohio State, runner up in last year's race. The Badgers' decisive defeat of Northwestern, combined with their excellent play in the Lawrence and Michigan Aggie games, will make them hard to beat.

Buckeyes Fast and Hard.

Ohio State is not a weak aggregation by any means. The known ability of most of the players is such as to make a worthy opponent for the team coached by John Richards. In Bliss and Stinchcomb, the Buckeyes boast two fast backs, while Willaman is a terrific line plunger. Workman, newly discovered quarterback, is said to be one of the most accurate forward passers in the conference.

All indications point to Wisconsin's employing a slashing offense, with attacks directed on and off the tackles. Fault will be used for line plunges and shot to skirt the ends or dart back through the line. Ohio undoubtedly will also use a running attack, although straight plays have been built around Willaman.

Iowa to Try Comeback.

Although Iowa was defeated by Illinois, the Hawkeyes can be depended upon to stage a great comeback against the Maroons. It will be remembered that Iowa was beaten by Zuppke's Illini last season, but the players recovered sufficiently to defeat Minnesota and give Chicago a great battle.

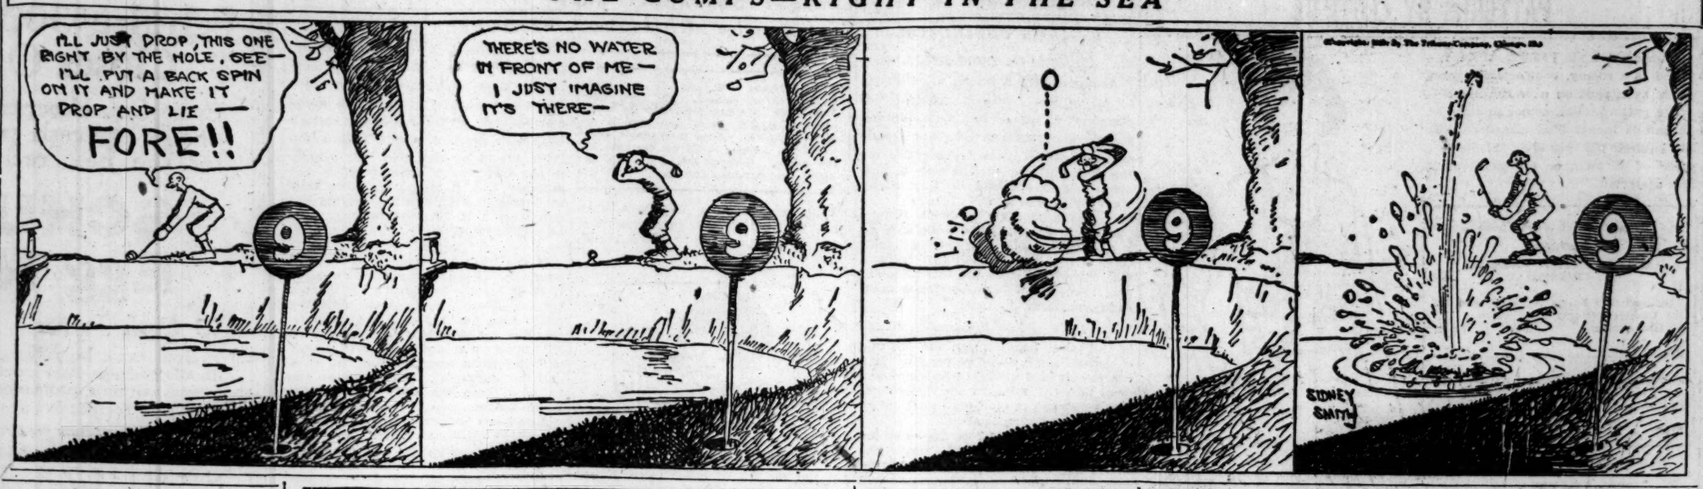

The real strength of Chicago and its chance of being a championship contender will be known after today's battle. In Capt. Jackson, McGuire, Snyder, and Cole, Coach Stagg has a quartet of dependable football men. The Maroons' offense against Purdue was nothing to brag about, while Wabash did not furnish the necessary opposition. Iowa has an advantage in having the greater number of experienced players.

HARVARD, CENTER SQUADS ON EDGE FOR CLASH TODAY

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 22.—At the finish of practice today the leaders of the Harvard and Center college squads declared their charges fit for what promises to be the most interesting game of the season when they clash tomorrow at the Harvard stadium. Harvard, which up to the eve of the contest has been an overwhelming favorite, is now given but about an even chance by the fans.

The Center team this afternoon went through about two hours' practice in signal drill and kicking and getting accustomed to the stadium conditions. The announced weights of the two teams show that the Crimson players have an average of ten pounds over the southern team.

THE GUMPS—RIGHT IN THE SEA

EASTERN GRID EYES TO FOCUS ON CENTRE GAME WITH HARVARD

BY ROBERT W. MAXWELL.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Last year West Virginia defeated Princeton in a football game played at Princeton. It was a decisive victory and the Mountaineers immediately were hailed as one of the best teams on the gridiron.

CHARLES MORAN (Center, Coach).

A week later a practice game was played at Charleston, W. Va., with a small college from Danville, Ky. That small college won, 14 to 6, and caused the biggest surprise of 1919. Until that time Center college almost was unheard of, but such is not the case now. The Kentuckians are up in the front rank, the most talked about small college eleven in the country, and tomorrow the eyes of the football world will be upon the game it plays with Harvard at Cambridge, Mass.

Put in Front by One Victory.

It required but one victory to put Center college out in front. The big boys wanted to know what it was all about and Harvard, being the most progressive, sent Eddie Mahan down to Danville to have a look. Eddie was so impressed with the team that he advised the Crimson to schedule a game with the southerners, and this was done.

Center is out to beat Harvard. Since Sept. 7, when the squad reported for practice at Camp Daniel Boone, on the banks of the Green river, this contest has been uppermost in the minds of all. Other games didn't count. They discussed nothing but Harvard and the stage is all set for the final act.

The day before Pitt played Syracuse and the Panthers were traveling to the Salt City, a young man entered the private car and asked to see Glenn Warner.

"My name is McMillan," he told the veteran coach. "I am on my way to Harvard to see the team play tomorrow."

Smart and Unusual Stunt.

That's how Center scouted the Crimson this year. The All-American quarter back of last season left his team flat in order to study the plays and players of the Crimson and this should be a great help. A smart quarter back can pick up valuable information if he can be spared from a game and sent out to scout a rival eleven. All of which proves that a small college has many advantages. Can you imagine a big team releasing its All-American quarter back in midseason?

The next best game in the east will be between Princeton and the Navy at Princeton. The Tigers have a good team and proved it in the early games. However, it will be different when the midshipmen are met. Bob Folwell has a likely looking squad, and although the first game was lost the team came back strong in the other battles.

Navy Has Good Team.

Gil Doble, head coach at Cornell, who had charge of the Navy eleven last year, says the material is good and Princeton will have to play better than ever before this season to win.

Speaking of Doble, his team plays Colgate tomorrow, and the game promises to be an unusual one. Doble says he has an uncertain eleven and holds little hope of winning. Huntington of Colgate says his team is the worst he ever saw and predicts a defeat. Therefore the two teams will fight it out to see which is the worst.

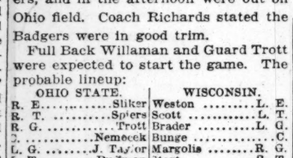

Dartmouth seems to be the hard luck eleven of the east. When the team was hitting on all twelve cylinders and in shape to give battle to the best of them, Jim Robertson, the star half back, had his collar bone broken and is out for the season. He broke his leg in the Penn game last year and his loss weakened the team considerably. It is the same now.

A FALL FROM GRACE.

A cloud was on the robber's brow,
His eye, forsooth, was wild,
And darkly looked he at his frau,
And darkly at his child;
"For how can I compete," said he,
"With every store and hostelry!"

"A bandit's life is sweet and clean,
And open as a book;
But competition is so keen
I'll have to turn a crook.
Can you forgive me when I say,
I've planned to open a café?"

Earlier Chicago.

The old Interstate Exposition building on the lake front, extending from Monroe to Jackson, with main entrance at Adams, was opened with firing of cannon Sept. 2, 1873.

For two months each fall until the year before the world's fair it attracted great crowds of people (special excursion rates on railroads) to see exhibits of all kinds displayed by merchants and manufacturers of Illinois and surrounding states.

The first officers were: Potter Palmer, president; Joseph Medill, vice president; J. Irving Pierce, treasurer; John P. Reynolds, secretary.

The art hall alone, with its fine collection of statuary and pictures, was worth the price of admission. Johnny Hand's band of forty pieces played and later Leisgang's orchestra.

The structure was divided into sections, a machinery hall at the north end, conservatory at the south, with others in between, and a gallery all the way round.

The building also was used for horse shows, stock shows, national conventions, etc.

My old friend Bill is quite adept;
He tees off swell; he's not inept
In anything in golf—except
The water holes at Jackson.

He irons out the tallest grass
And eases from the pits with class;
But, curses, he can never pass
The water holes at Jackson.

His drives are long; his putts are beauts;
He seldom foozles, tops, or boots,
Yet Waterloos whene'er he shoots
The water holes at Jackson.

Each game he manages to spill
Into the drink another pill—
He soon will sink enough to fill
The water holes at Jackson.

HYDE PARK CLASHES WITH ENGLEWOOD IN ANNUAL TILT TODAY

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Those old time rivals for prep gridiron honors, Hyde Park and Englewood High schools, will stage their annual battle this morning at Stagg field, and although the high geared Englewood machine is a heavy favorite, the Hyde Park boys think they may spring a surprise. Hyde Park is in better trim for battle than at any time this season and realizes that a win today may mean the championship and a trip to New York to play the best prep team in Gotham.

Englewood has three sweeping victories to its credit and no defeats. Hyde Park has two victories and no defeats, but one of its victories was obtained from Lane after a Lane player had been declared ineligible. With the ineligible man in the game Lane beat Hyde Park, 20 to 0, two weeks ago. As Englewood defeated the Lane team without the ineligible player last week, 27 to 7, it looks as if Englewood has quite a margin of strength over its old time rival for the combat today.

Two Weeks of Drill.

To offset that Hyde Park has had two weeks of steady drill since its rather disappointing showing against Lane, and besides expects to have Capt. Kile in the contest today at least half of the time. Kile is considered the star of the Hyde Park team and was out of the Lane game because of injuries.

In the game two weeks ago the Hyde Park defense showed up well except in breaking up forward passes, and it was mainly by that method that the Lane team won.

Then Hyde Park's offense, impressive in style, was far from perfected. Coach Pressler uses the famous Minnesota shift, but his boys didn't have it working correctly. Many times the ball was snapped before the line of scrimmage was formed and penalties resulted. Since then the boys have been drilled thoroughly and with added enthusiasm since the protest against Lane kept Hyde Park in the championship race.

May Get a Jolt.

On the other hand, Englewood was pointed to perfection for the Lane game of a week ago and perhaps has eased up a bit since. Should Barradell's men slump today, even slightly, they might be given a severe jolt.

Other heavyweight games on the schedule today are Lane and Waller at De Paul this morning, Senn and Austin at Cragin park in the afternoon, and Harrison and Lindblom at White City in the afternoon. Senn still is in the race for the title and should have little trouble in coming out with a victory against the west siders.

Two Stone Walls Meet When Staleys Play Here

An irresistible force will meet an immovable object when the Chicago Tigers bump into the Decatur Staleys tomorrow afternoon at Cub park in the season's biggest professional football game. It looks like both teams are too solid and heavy to be pierced by old style straight football tactics, and the result may hinge on open field work of men like Ghee, Barrett, Sternaman, and Halas. Tickets are on sale at Wilson's, 42 South Wabash avenue.

YOST'S MEN AND ILLINI "ALL SET"; BOTH CONFIDENT

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—The entire city tonight is tingling with excitement on the eve of Michigan's biggest game of the season, with Illinois. Both camps are confident of victory, and in the betting lots of Illinois money is in sight. Michigan followers are asking odds of 10 to 8.

Coach Zuppke and his warriors arrived this morning and worked out at Ferry field this afternoon. Both teams put in a light workout and the coaches appear to be satisfied with their men. Michigan will use about the same lineup as started the Aggie game last week.

Army Scouts to Watch Notre Dame Play Valpo

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—The Notre Dame team had a light workout today in final preparation for the Valparaiso game tomorrow. This contest, one of the hardest on Notre Dame's schedule, will test the power of Rockne's eleven to the limit. New plays were rehearsed with the greatest care. In view of the presence of West Point scouts, Notre Dame will cover up its overhead play as much as possible, and attempt to win on straight football.

CRIPPLED MAROONS GET FIRST REAL TEST WITH IOWANS TODAY

Referee—Burch, Earlham. Umpire—Knight, Michigan. Field judge—Masker, Northwestern. Head linesman—St. John, Notre Dame.

Crippled, but filled with fight, the University of Chicago football team will meet its first real test of the season when Howard Jones' University of Iowa team comes to Stagg field this afternoon. The Hawkeyes were practically put out of the conference race last week by Illinois, but may show recuperative power against the Maroons. The seating capacity has been enlarged at Stagg field and it is possible the largest crowd that ever saw a game in Chicago will be in the stands for the kickoff at 3 o'clock.

Elton's Loss Keen Blow.

The loss of Elton, who was ruled out for the season by the conference faculty committee last night, was a big blow to the Maroons, especially this week, when so many of Stagg's offensive stars are out of condition.

The Maroons are badly crippled in the backfield. Quarter Back Cole ran through signals last night, as did Crisler, right end, but neither is in good shape. Hanisch, who has been temporarily shifted from full back to half back, is in poor physical condition, and Neff, left half back, is not able to put on a suit. Hinkle, left end, was back in a suit after one day's illness, and will probably start.

Hawkeyes at Stagg Field.

The Hawkeyes arrived yesterday morning and took an early practice on Stagg field. Coach Jones indicated that Capt. Kelly, quarter back, might be benched, moving Aubrey Devine, the Hawkeye flash, from half back to the pivot post. Devine, Belding, the end who catches most of the Iowa passes, and Slater, the big Negro tackle, are stars the Maroons will have to watch today.

New York, Oct. 22.—The annual six day bicycle race at Madison Square garden will begin Dec. 6, it was announced tor ght. Ten foreign teams are expected to enter.

BIG TEN BOARD HOLDS S. A. T. C. STARS ELIGIBLE

The Big Ten conference is a happy family again. Faculty representatives who draw up the eligibility rules met at the Auditorium hotel last night and straightened out the mess regarding S. A. T. C. football in 1918, when army football superceded intercollegiate athletics.

The motion made last June was upheld, throwing out the 1918 season, making all men who played that fall eligible for three full years of varsity football. The vote was 5 to 3, Minnesota and Ohio State not being represented.

Reber Is Reinstated.

The decision will allow Reber, Chicago center, Capt. Goetz, Michigan tackle; Block, Iowa tackle, and several others, to compete this year.

Only one athlete was ruled out. Moffat Elton, Chicago half back, would be eligible under the interpretation passed last night, but the star Maroon athlete was barred on another charge.

Prolonged His Course.

Elton should have graduated last June. He was a member of the University of Chicago baseball team, which went to Japan, and it was the intention of the Chicago faculty that all members of the nine should return to summer school to make up work lost during the spring absence. Elton failed to return, and in so doing, violated the rule that an athlete shall not prolong his normal scholastic routine to compete in varsity sports.

SQUARES PLAY LIGHTNINGS.

The Logan Square A. C. and the Lightnings will settle a neighborhood dispute tomorrow afternoon at Logan Square park. Both claim the football championship of the northwest side. Ernie Dennis of last year's team will be back with the Squares.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Gather ye petticoats while ye may—this is the advice heeded by the designer of this costume. Literally, of course, this skirt has not been gathered. But it does show the familiar fullness over the hips that has been so much eclipsed by the long straight line.

The material is gray duvetyn with invisible stripe of black and this is combined effectively with white flannel. The slashing of the draperies over the hips is a new and arresting feature and the short jacket bodice gives in combination with this a silhouette that recalls the Island of Marken.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Hallowe'en Sandwiches.

Among others a school miss writes to me of her "serious problem" of planning a menu for a Halloween party. She suggests that her means or those of the class are limited, but she does not give me an idea of how much she can spend or how many must be provided for.

Of the numerous sandwich fillings that might be suggested I am minded to supply the following excellent mixture, which came originally from a high school principal and was undoubtedly based upon her experience upon such occasions:

One pond of soft yellow cheese, two or three well beaten eggs, one-half cup of cream, some salt and pepper. Mix the cream and well beaten eggs and drop into the mixture the cheese cut into small pieces (you may grate it on an inverted frying basket).

Put the whole over a fire—not too hot—and stir constantly until the cheese melts. Take off fire and add salt and pepper to taste, using red pepper or paprika. Pour into a jar or bowl and allow to cool. It should then be the consistency of soft butter. Keeps for a week.

To make this a little sharper, so that the sandwiches may appropriately be called witches' sandwiches or devil's dreams, a little mustard may be added, or some red pepper chopped and added to it, or some grated horseradish. A little decoration of red pepper on the top of the sandwich is pretty and fits the season. Stuffed eggs, the white chopped and added to the highly seasoned yolks, may be used in the same way.

For the sweet part of the collation devil's food or chocolate cake filled with a white icing and decorated in faces may be used. Ginger snaps wrapped in papers on which are written health, wealth, happiness, good luck, wisdom, long life, may be called fortune cakes.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY

ALICE B.: A SLIM ANKLE IS worth cultivating, all right. Do you know a good exercise? Bicycle pedaling. Maybe if there is an old attic in your family you might be able to drag out a 1910 model and rig it up somewhere around in a stationery place, allowing the pedals free movement. Some of the well fitted gyms have this idea in apparatus. Then, for a stamped addressed envelope you may have a couple of more exercises to trim the ankle with.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

How Can You Tell Love?

"Dear Miss Blake: My girl friend tells me I don't love some one whom I really do. She claims it is mere infatuation.

"I have been going about with this man for about ten months. We have had many foolish arguments, but always ended up right; the majority of times he gave in to me.

"For the last month or so my love has been increasing when not in his presence, and when I see him I am hypnotized. I have many chances with well to do men, whom I care for only as friends and whom I have a great deal of respect for, but cannot go out with them because they get too serious. Please tell me if it really is infatuation with my first friend. PUZZLED."

You show the symptoms of love, I fear. I can see where old Doc Hymen is going to carry you off to his great, grand sanitarium one of these days with the hypnotic gentleman. His prescription will include some healthy "love, honor, and obey" doses, but I guess you will be able to take them with a smile, eh? Good luck!

FATTENING POULTRY

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Old fowls past the laying and breeding stage can be made into good table poultry by placing them on heavy feed for a short period. Profitable gains can be made by feeding heavy rations ten days or two weeks before the birds are to be marketed. Of course, if the birds have come through the summer thin it would probably take so long to get them into good market condition that the operation would be unprofitable.

If the flock has been kept in good condition cheap gains can be made in short feeding periods. Start feeding them a liberal feed of grain, including green feed and milk. Keep them on this diet for about fourteen days, then lock them up in small pens where they will get little exercise and the coop can be darkened, and increase the ration. Keep the coop dark except when feeding.

Two feeds each day will be sufficient, but three feeds are better. Chickens kept in dark coops this way are usually ready for market in a week or ten days. If kept in the dark feeding coop for more than two weeks they often lose their appetite, or at least make slow gains. Two of these feeds should be cracked corn and the other a mash made by mixing one part of wheat bran, two parts of corn meal, and add about 10 per cent of meat scraps.

Poultrymen consider this one of the most desirable methods because the preliminary feeding period, where the feed is given in the yard, does away with the sudden change from a light to a heavy ration, and the birds seldom lose their appetites before they are fat enough for table use.

Gen. Biddle to Quit U. S. Army on Dec. 1

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—Retirement of Brig. Gen. John Biddle, who commanded the American troops in England during the world war, at his own request on Dec. 1, was announced today at the war department. On that date, he will have completed forty-three years of active service and be eligible for retirement.

BRIG. GEN. JOHN BIDDLE.

Gen. Biddle, who is a native of Detroit, was graduated from West Point in 1881, and served during the Spanish-American war as a lieutenant colonel in the engineer corps.

At the time of the entrance of the United States into the world war, Gen. Biddle was superintendent of the military academy. He was assigned to command a regiment of engineers organized for special service in France and soon afterward was made a brigadier general of the regular army and later commissioned a major general in the national army.

Orchestra Rouses Storm of Cheers in Brahms Number

BY RUTH MILLER.

It is the fortune or misfortune of every individual person or thing in this world to be known by one sharply cut and inescapable characteristic. Even as with Kreisler that predominating trait is rhythm, with the Chicago Symphony orchestra it is tone—a tone which in its wonder of orchestral color shades from the merest gray streak of sound to the crimson flaunting of crashing violence.

Yesterday we heard it first, superbly dignified and majestically sonorous, in the Choral and Fugue of Bach, whose music is always tinged with the atmosphere of dim cathedrals and ecclesiastical solemnity.

Thence it slipped into the glowing vitality of the Brahms D major symphony. Here its velvet limpidity, throat tightening vibrancy and splendor of contrasting nuance so caught and gripped the audience that they forgot the smug proprieties of the Friday concert, and broke into riotous bravos and stamped approval, a thing hitherto unheard of in the orchestra's annals, where a work of that severe master of musical form was concerned. And, as is his wont, Mr. Stock insisted that his men rise and share the vociferous appreciation.

In "La Mer" the tonal hues changed, chameleon like, from the richer, warmer shades to the exquisite opalescences of Debussy. In that iridescent musical bubble, which tempts even the prosaic among us to adjective rhapsody, shimmering as it does with all the wonder of surging, white crested water, this inimitable orchestral tone melted into the sheen of the eery dissonances and vague tonalities with the ease that apple green sea waters slips over gray scarred rocks.

Creeping after "The Sea" sketches like a fragmentary delicate shadow came Goosens' "By the Tarn." This bit of English composure is musically like a fragile cobweb, but for all its frail beauty and charm in its rigid adherence to the Debussy idiom it did not prove Mr. Goosens to be either vastly sophisticated or astoundingly original as a composer.

The next number was a sly bit of roguery by Albeniz, done to rollicking perfection by the orchestra. In discussing it we shall devote ourselves principally to the eulogy of that genius among trumpeters, Mr. Llewellyn. We have all known him to be an expert among experts, but never until yesterday did we think him skilled enough to be able to drop at will the cloak of his infallible technic and suave tone and assume the notorious and shrieking crudities of a player in a band of itinerant musicians.

The program closed with that whirling mass of treacherous rhythms, "Espana," by Chabier.

The TEACHER Who is she?

Next to the mother, the teacher is the most important unit in our social structure. Upon her example and inspiration rests the guidance and enlightenment of young minds. While she appreciates the value of "book learning" she also appreciates the supreme importance of character and character building. She knows that in thrift, generosity and self control lies the greatest wisdom and she imparts this knowledge to her pupils.

The teacher's contact with life has shown her that those who succeed are those who put their shoulders to the wheel—those who give meaning to their lives by saving the earnings of their heads and hands. She, herself, is one of them. We know her at this bank and are glad to pay interest on her savings.

Sharpness Betrays Him, Alienist Declares.

Carl Wanderer, on trial before Judge Hugo Pam for the murder of his young wife and a "poor boob" last June, relaxed yesterday while attorneys and alienists discussed the various pareses, neuroses, war-psychoses, dementia præcox, and schizophrenia.

He leaned back in his chair, suppressed a yawn, and smiled as the lawyers delved into mental phenomena.

When Dr. Clarence A. Neymann, superintendent of the psychopathic hospital, asserted that Wanderer was not suffering from dementia præcox, the young defendant pushed his hands into his trouser pockets and gazed at the ceiling. A smile played about his lips as his attorney, Ben Short, thundered at the witness.

All a Trifle to Wanderer.

During the last hour of the hearing, while Dr. William O. Krohn of 707 North Oak Park avenue, Oak Park, another alienist, made certain qualifying statements, Wanderer gazed idly at Dr. John J. Mahoney, who also will testify for the state in regard to the defendant's mental condition.

At the close of court his eyes swept past the three alienists. He shrugged his shoulders and stepped quickly from the courtroom, slapping his trousers with a newspaper.

The dramatic moment of the long day of expert testimony came when Dr. Neymann asserted that Wanderer's actions on the witness stand were not those of a man suffering from dementia præcox. The largest crowd that has yet attended the trial became silent as Dr. Neymann finished his statements.

Opinion Rouses Defense.

"You have observed the defendant in court here, have you?" asked Assistant State's Attorney James O'Brien.

"Yes."

Q—You heard his testimony, watched his actions? A.—Yes.

Q—Then is he afflicted with dementia præcox? A.—He is not.

Wanderer leaned far back in his chair and studied the walls. A moment later Attorney Ben Short broke into furious cross examination.

"In what do you base your opinion?" he asked Neymann.

"In his actions. On his testimony."

Q—Tell me the first thing that attracted your attention. A.—There were a number of things."

Shocked at Sight of Guns.

Q—Tell me one thing that makes you believe he is not suffering from dementia præcox. A.—His actions when Sergt. Norton laid the revolvers before him.

Q—Explain, please. A.—When the guns were laid before him he glanced at them, started a bit, glanced over them, then dropped his eyes and turned them away.

Q—A dementia præcox patient would do that, eh? A.—Certainly not. It was a shock——

An objection prevented the rest of the sentence from getting into the record.

Wanderer twisted in his chair and glared at Dr. Mahoney.

Q—Tell me another thing that makes you so sure. A.—The way he answered the questions convinced me.

Q—Now, explain that statement. A.—Well, Wanderer answered the questions that would not hurt him. He answered them quickly. When he was asked a question that would injure his defense, he paused, seemed uneasy, and usually said, "I don't know."

A scuffling in the rear of the room caused Judge Pam to repeat his daily warning to the crowd. The room would be cleared of spectators, he threatened, if there was any further disturbance. Wanderer smiled.

"Too Sharp to Be Crazy."

"Anything else?" asked Mr. Short.

"Yes," said Dr. Neymann. "Wanderer hesitated before he used the profanity he alleged Sergt. Norton hurled at him."

Q—Yes? A.—And he always hesitated when driven into a corner.

Q—Wouldn't a crazy man hesitate when driven into a corner? A.—No —he wouldn't know about it. But I am speaking of victims of dementia præcox. There is a difference, you know.

Q—What else? A.—Well, the man was extremely tired at the end of his examination. That is a sign he is not afflicted with dementia præcox.

Love Note Bobs Up Again.

Sergt. John Norton of the homicide squad took the stand immediately after court.

Q—Did you call Wanderer any names? A.—Never.

Q—Did you show him the letter, of which this is a copy?" asked Assistant State's Attorney John Prystalski.

"Yes."

The exhibit referred to is an alleged obscene tracing of a letter supposed to have been written to Miss Julia Wanderer. The defendant denies having seen the exhibit, the original of which was lost by the police.

The last hour of the hearing was occupied by Dr. Krohn's qualification statements. He will resume the stand this morning and will be followed by Dr. Mahoney. It is then expected the state will close its rebuttal. The case is not expected to go to the jury before Monday night or Tuesday noon.

'CARNATION DAN"

No Matter How Dark the Clouds, He Always Smiles.

DAN O'LEARY.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

There are some 1,688,936,350 folks on this bustling mote we call the earth, but there is only one Dan O'Leary.

And yesterday was Oct. 22. And if you ask the first policeman you see, or the first politician, or millionaire racing fan, or stage star, or bleacherite, or Comiskey, or the corner newsie, or Father Fitzsimmons of the Holy Name Cathedral, he'll tell you it was Dan's sixty-seventh birthday.

And if you had visited the East Chicago avenue police station, you would have met a man with a red carnation in his buttonhole and a kindly smile upon his face. That's Dan, dean of police reporters, and the friend of more notables than any man in America. He's been at East Chicago station for thirty years.

A photographer journeyed thence for Dan's picture. He found him nursing three of old Malty's newest arrivals. They haven't been doing as well as could be expected lately, Dan explained.

Here's to you, Dan.

GIRL ENGAGED TO WED MAJ. SHUMAN MAY SPURN HIM

Miss Mabel Salmon, the Omaha girl, who as a war worker in Paris met Maj. W. Irving Shuman, two years ago, and promised to marry him, may not wed him after all. When she learned yesterday that the former United States subtreasurer at Chicago is being sued for divorce by his wife, Mrs. Pearl Shuman, 4121 North Irving avenue, on the grounds of desertion, she was prostrated.

She did not know that he had a wife and two children in Chicago, nor did she know that he had written to them saying that he "was not as clean as when he left Chicago," and for that reason could not return. Although unable to leave her room throughout the day, Miss Salmon prepared last night to make the trip to Paris to talk to the major.

"I want to know the truth," she said. "There may not be a marriage."

Miss Salmon's plan to meet Maj. Shuman in Belgium and to marry him was announced in Omaha Wednesday.

Judge Lewis in the Superior court has indicated that he would grant Mrs. Shuman a divorce.

"I shall not do anything which will interfere with their plans," Mrs. Shuman said. "I wish them well."

Killing Done in Midst of 25,000, but None Saw It

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Murder was committed at Hammond's fall festival last night. The killing was done in the midst of a throng of 25,000 people who were packed in the street around a free vaudeville show, but not a witness to it has been found. Neither has the murderer nor his victim been identified. Two men in the crowd got into an altercation and but few words had been spoken before one struck the other, felling him to the cement walk. The assailant escaped by dodging through the crowd. The victim's skull was fractured and he died a few minutes later.

RAH-RAH DAYS AT COLLEGES GONE, U. M. HEAD SAYS

War Sobered Youth Now Seeks Realities.

The new president of Michigan university, Marion Leroy Burton, spoke last night at a dinner attended by 200 members of the Michigan Alumni association, held at the Hotel La Salle. He discussed the needs of the university and the plans unfolding to meet those needs—housing, classrooms, and laboratories, and better paid teachers. There are 10,500 students enrolled this year in the institution.

President Burton talked also of the reforms in education demanded by the times and urged the Ann Arbor alumni to aid in the great work.

"Rah Rah Days Gone."

"The duty of the educator and of educational institutions," he said, "is to make the new social order what it ought to be. Unless education can take the millions comprised in the youth of America and make them into good citizens, then I see no future for democracy.

"The good old 'Rah, rah!' days are gone. The student of today is more mature. Through the war he has come into contact with the sterner realities of life, and he comes to us with a greater vision of what he needs. We must arise to supply the things he is hunting for.

"There are two great enemies our educational plants have to overcome—superficiality and formalism. We can no longer allow that loafing, lazy, slouching standard that prevailed among college students of a generation ago. We must have a thoroughgoing concentration and teach a man some idea of what it means to be alive."

Sees Evil in "Exams."

President Burton cited the college examination system as it has prevailed. He said: "The examination is the finest thing that could be devised to keep a man from being educated. We teach him a number of things, fail to teach him how to put them together, and then at the end of the term give him an examination. In his four years we give him eight examinations and then tell him he is educated."

Dr. Burton said education must look more to specialization—to sorting out the vast hordes of students into groups or units having special needs or aptitudes, to give them more efficient preparation for life. He indicated that more specially defined courses or schools in the university would be the tendency. He emphasized the extending thirst for knowledge evident among American youth and said the colleges must prepare to meet this ever growing call, and at the same time justify the confidence of the American people in higher education.

Judson and Scott Speak.

Dr. Burton was introduced by Dr. Lyndall L. Davis, president of the alumni. Short addresses were delivered by President Harry Pratt Judson of the University of Chicago, Walter Dill Scott, president-elect of Northwestern, and Attorney John M. Zane.

Child Runs Into Street for Toy; Struck by Auto

John Stapleton, 4 years old, 1122 West Sixty-seventh street, running into the street to pick up his toy wagon, was struck by an automobile and badly injured. The machine was driven by Arthur Johnson, 6315 Woodlawn avenue, colored, chauffeur for O. M. Carry, 6600 Woodlawn avenue. Johnson was arrested.

Miss Edith Huey, Northwestern university, coed, suffered a broken nose and bruises about the body when an auto driven by Miss Edith Cutler, another coed, collided with the car driven by Prentice Coffer, president of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity house, Evanston. Miss Huey was in Miss Cutler's auto.

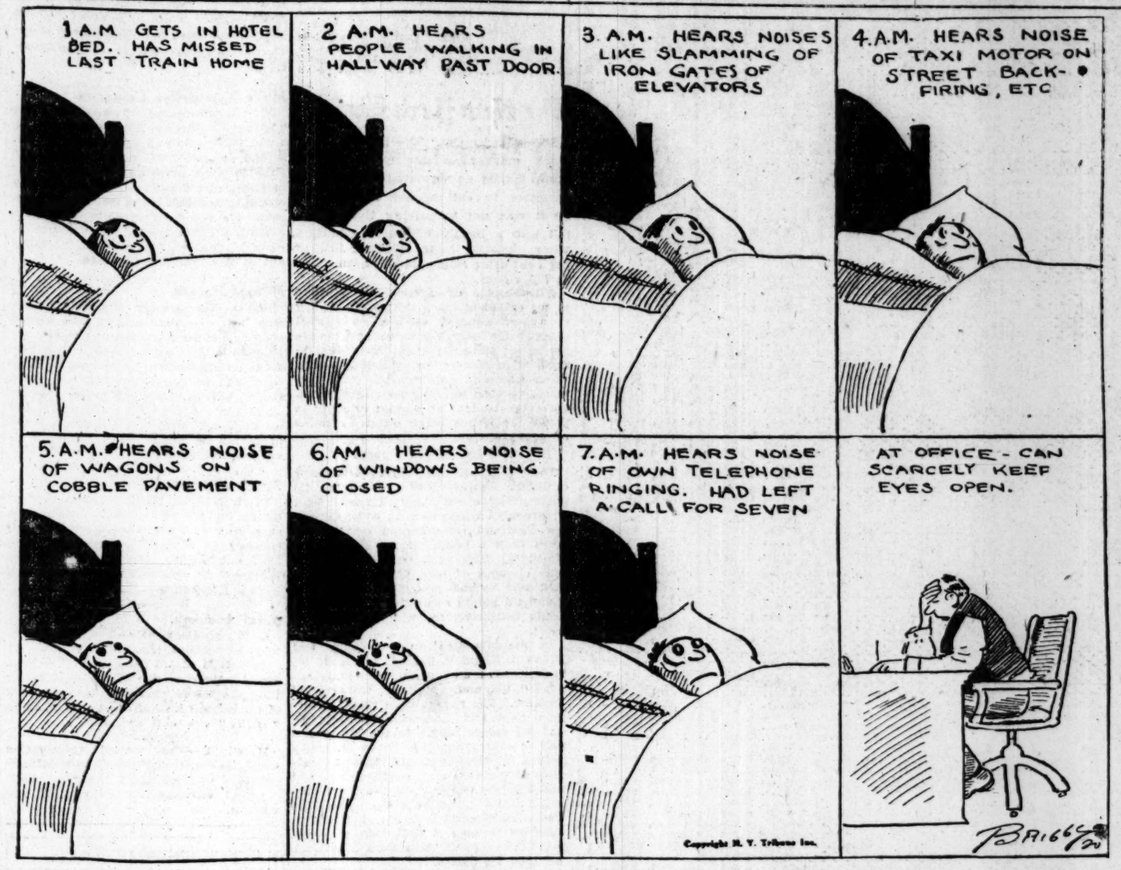

Woman Tells How Aged Charmer Took Her $2,000

A desire for a husband, preferably an elderly one with gray hair, proved the forerunner of difficulties for Mrs. Eliza E. Miller, 65 years old, residing at 4012 Calumet avenue. She told Judge Lewis in the Superior court of her matrimonial disaster yesterday.

"Two days after the ceremony my husband asked me to sign a deed to property that I owned," she said. "It was worth $2,000. A week later he left me and I haven't seen him since."

Counsel for Mrs. Miller attempted to prove that the marriage should be annulled because the bridegroom was a bigamist.

J. WEISSENBACH, ATTORNEY, SUED FOR DIVORCE

MRS. JOSEPH WEISSENBACH. JOSEPH WEISSENBACH.

Joseph Weissenbach, member of the law firm of Weissenbach, Hartman, Craig & Germack and a former assistant state's attorney, was sued for divorce yesterday by Mrs. Minna K. Weissenbach. She charged desertion.

Mrs. Weissenbach is a daughter of the late L. Klein, a dry goods merchant, whose estate was valued at $1,000,000. They were married on Feb. 11, 1901.

The bill charges that Mr. Weissenbach deserted his family on Nov. 14, 1917. It alleged his income is $50,000 a year.

Mrs. Weissenbach asks the custody of three children, Helen, 18; Mary, 8, and Joseph, 7. Mrs. Weissenbach asks that the court enter an order compelling her husband to provide for the maintenance and education of the children.

Oak Park Adds Fourth 'R,' Religion, to Schools' Three

Oak Park school children have not only three "R's" to learn now, but four —readin', 'ritin',' 'rithmetic, and religion. The Bible is being taught pupils of the three highest grades. The heaviest enrollment for the study of the scriptures is from the Emerson school. Mrs. Elizabeth Hess is directing the work in several of the centers. It is expected religious classes will be organized in the high schools next week.

Woman Who Registered from Aurora Poisons Self

A woman who registered at the New Southern hotel as Mrs. M. Sharkey of Aurora Thursday was found dead in her room last night. She had poisoned herself, after making attempts to hide her identity. She was not known in Aurora, so far as the authorities could learn. The police found evidence among her effects that lead them to believe she came from Denver.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

A meeting of the Hyde Park Woman's auxiliary of the American Legion was erronously announced to take place at the Hyde Park hotel on Oct. 19 at 2 o'clock. It will be held on Oct. 26.

It was erroneously announced in THE TRIBUNE of Oct. 21 that the Norwegian Singing society would give a special concert that night at Orchestra hall in commemoration of its fiftieth jubilee. The date of the concert is this coming Thursday, Oct. 28.

In a report of the Harrison-Crane football game the right half back was called Sweeney. His name is Swiecicki.

THE TRIBUNE of Oct. 21 stated that John Pipes Conley, 106 South Crawford avenue, was a member of the Charles V. Barrett baseball club. Mr. Conley states that this is not true; that he is a member of the Mike Sheridan Democratic club only.

POSTAL OFFERS TO COMPROMISE WITH STRIKERS

The operators for the Postal Telegraph company who walked out three days ago when two of their number were discharged and in protest against the abolition of the bonus system yesterday were offered a new scale of pay which virtually takes the place of the prohibited bonus, but the company refuses to reinstate the two discharged.

A delegation of the striking employés, now numbering about 120, called on T. N. Powers, chief operator, and were told the company would reinstate the men under a new scale which grants 1¼ cents for day letters and 2½ cents for night letters, if they would agree to forego the demand for the reinstatement of the discharged men.

The men decided to make another call today on F. E. Collins, manager, and then decide.

White Girl Found with Negroes Goes to Home

Miss Virginia Bertch, the 16 year old white girl arrested Tuesday in the home of colored people, yesterday was sent to the State Home for Girls at Geneva. The girl agreed to do whatever her mother suggested, and the suggestion was Geneva. Buster Anderson, the Negro charged with contributing to the girl's delinquency, is held under $20,000 bonds. The case will be heard Oct. 27. The girl said she met Buster in the Entertainers and the Alvidere Social club, black and white resorts on the south side.

CLEARS LAWYERS OF ABDUCTION IN DIVORCE CASE

Charges of abduction and forcible detainer made before Judge Rush of Circuit court by Mrs. Irma Haas of Wauconda, Ill., against two attorneys, J. K. Orvis, and L. A. Needham, were dismissed yesterday.

MRS. STERLING MORTON.

Mrs. Haas alleged that despite her protests the atorneys were prosecuting a suit for divorce against her husband Joseph S. Haas, real estate dealer of Wauconda. She claimed in a letter to Judge Rush that she was recently kidnapped by Attorney Needham and held prisoner in his home in Winnetka.

Mrs. Sterling Morton, daughter-in-law of Joy Morton, millionaire capitalist, in whose home Mrs. Haas was once employed as a French governess, asked a court investigation.

Judge Rush asked the attorneys if it was true that although Mrs. Haas desired to file a bill for separate maintenance, they had filed suit for divorce. They denied the charge. Attorney Needham explained that when Mrs. Haas told him she did not want to return to her home, he offered her a refuge in his residence. Later, he said, an attempt was made to find employment for her.

At the request of Mrs. Haas, Judge Rush ordered the bill for divorce dismissed. Mrs. Morton said she was satisfied with the investigation.

CHILD LEAPS IN FIRE, SAVES RAG DOLL; MAY DIE

Not even the wisest scientist would have guessed its purpose, and the ragman would have disdained it—an old muslin salt sack, filled with sawdust; two black shoe buttons surmounting a couple of smudges.

Mrs. Solomon Cohn, cleaning her home at 1348 South Kedzie, didn't see it. She swept it up and tossed it into the garbage container. The janitor carried it out and dumped it in the alley. It escaped his notice as he touched a match to the rubbish heap.

Seven year old Bloomie Cohn happened along. She saw it, in the midst of the fire. She leaped in, seized it, threw it to safety, and collapsed in the flames. At the county hospital physicians said she would die.

It was her rag doll.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

Today's Question.

Should the city council pass an ordinance forbidding the parking of automobiles in loop streets?

Where Asked.

On North Clark street and South Water street.

The Answers.

Thomas Lavin, 2560 Ogden avenue, clerk—Yes, they should stop them from parking in the loop, but they must provide some other place in which to park. The underground garage that some aldermen suggest is the only way to relieve the congestion.

Mrs. Ida Herbert, 10562 South Michigan avenue, housewife —Yes, they ought to get them out of the loop. Let them find another place to park so women and children shopping downtown will have some safe place in which to get when these speed maniacs are hurrying down the streets.

Meyer Romenoff, 1500 South Leavitt street, salesman — Yes, by all means get them off the streets. Let the council find some other place to put them. Automobile owners I am sure, favor any movement that will out their cars in a safe place and at the same time relieve congestion in the loop.

Miss Anna Biba, 2038 Cortland street, stenographer—Yes, the loop is too congested. Chicago ought to have a parking place outside the loop. Then poor folks, who have to use street cars, can get down to work on time in the mornings, instead of being held up on the tracks by lines of moving vehicles forced there by congestion along the curbings.

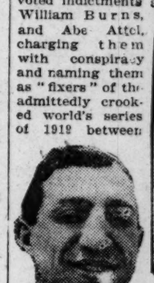

Dr. C. F. Blair, Lombard, Ill.—Yes. There should be an ordinance forbidding the use of the loop streets for parking to the extent they are used now. Other cities have solved the problem, so why can't we? There are many practical ways in which it can be done.

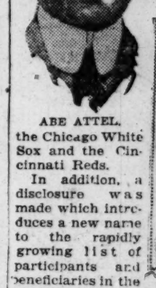

BASEBALL JURY INDICTS BURNS, CHASE AND ATTEL

Gedeon of St. Louis Club Now Under Fire.

The baseball grand jury last night voted indictments against Hal Chase, William Burns, and Abe Attel, charging them with conspiracy and naming them as "fixers" of the admittedly crooked world's series of 1919 between the Chicago White Sox and the Cincinnati Reds.

BILL BURNS.

HAL CHASE.

ABE ATTEL.

In addition, a disclosure was made which introduces a new name to the rapidly growing list of participants and beneficiaries in the tossing off of the world's title by the Sox. Joseph Gedeon, second baseman of the St. Louis American league club, was declared to have had knowledge of the "fixing," and is believed to have taken an active part in making the arrangements.

New Indictments for Others.

New indictments were voted against the eight White Sox players named in former bills. This was done to guard against any irregularites that might have been found in the first bills.

The Attel indictment is based on a story told the grand jury by Manager Gleason of the Sox and a baseball reporter. On July 17 last Attel sat in a New York café with Manager Gleason, Billy Murray, one time manager of the Phillies, and two baseball reporters. Attel then admitted he knew of the "buying" of the series, and admitted he had gambled on it, but stated he was double crossed by a big New York gambler and never got what was coming to him.

Attel was located at Montreal, Canada, last night and told of his indictment. He refused to discuss the matter, merely saying he expected to remain in Montreal a while longer.

Ban Johnson on Stand.

Ban Johnson, president of the American league, was the first witness yesterday. He asked the jury not to indict Gedeon until after the latter arrives here. Johnson said he had talked to Gedeon on the long distance telephone at his home in Sacramento, Cal., and that Gedeon, on his instructions, had taken the first train for Chicago.

Gedeon's alleged activities are said to have concerned the "fixing" of the eighth and deciding game of the series. That game was played here, and Cincinnati won by driving Claude Williams from the slab in the first inning.

Arnold Rothstein, whose name has been frequently mentioned in the baseball inquiry, said in New York last night that he would leave Monday for Chicago and would tell the jury all he knows about the scandal. Rothstein said he had notified the Chicago authorities to this effect.

Pools Investigated.

Baseball lotteries were included in the hearing yesterday. E. Klinger, mayor of Blue Island, Chief of Police Stone of Chicago Heights, Joe Lloyd, owner of a baseball pool ticket system; Ray Claussen, a street car conductor, who won a flotitious $10,000 prize, and Harry Long, a broker's clerk, were witnesses.

Claussen said he had purchased a ticket for $1. When he went to the offices of the Universal Baseball pool to collect his $10,000, an offer was made to him to settle for $500. That was impossible, he said. He got nothing. A later trip to the offices netted an offer of a gold medal, which he declined.

It is said the pool comprised 134,000 chances at $1 per. Prizes actually paid and expenses were approximately $34,000, a net of $100,000 accruing to the promoters.

LAKE FOREST BOOZE ROBBERY CASES DROPPED

Cases against six men indicted by the Lake county grand jury for the theft of $100,000 worth of booze from the homes of several millionaires in Lake Forest were nolle prossed yesterday. The men released are Frank Steele, Edward Attridge, Pearl Dennis, William Jordan, William Banes, and James Watt. They were indicted in connection with robberies of the homes of Jonas Kuppenheimer, C. A. Ackert, and other millionaires.

Dennis and Bane turned state's evidence against Steele, whom they said they assisted in the theft of liquor from many Lake Forest residences. Dennis said Steele paid him $20 to drive a truck load of booze to Kenosha, where it was sold to a saloon. Mayor Henry Rumsey declared Steele and Attridge admitted in his Chicago office they had roobed the Ackert home.

Judge C. C. Edwards yesterday refused the motion of States Attorney James G. Welch for a fourth trial. The jury could not agree in any of the cases, which have cost the county $5,000.

Girl Gets $3,300 Solomon Scholarship at U. of C.

Miss Eva Harris, 3863 Flournoy street, has been selected as the first recipient of the Hannah Solomon scholarship at a two year course at the University of Chicago with an annual endowment of $1,650. She was chosen by Mrs. Hannah Solomon, "the mother of the National Council of Jewish Women." The scholarship was created by the council.

BANKERS WATCH GOODS SUPPLIES AS PRICES FALL

New York, Oct. 22.—[Special.]—Financiers are actively canvassing the situation as to the supply of manufactured goods on hand. It is believed the bottom has been almost struck in many commodities and that wage readjustments are all that are needed to start business in many lines.

It is found, however, that the decline in wholesale prices is not yet being passed on to the consumer. This will take time. Food prices are declining for the wholesaler. Bradstreet's index of wholesale prices for last week stood at $4.17, compared with $4.24 the week before and $4.90 a year ago. These are the wholesale prices to the retailer, but not the consumer.

Dealers Carry Light Stocks.

One big concern manufacturing boots and shoes finds that 70 to 90 per cent of orders received at its various offices are for immediate delivery, an indication that boot and shoe distributors are carrying light stocks.

A canvass of the woolen trade shows light orders are expected until January, and then a good business is looked for. There is something of a contest on between the wearer and the labor producer. Colder weather probably will force concessions both ways.

Crude rubber is selling at 22 cents a pound, the lowest price in history. Some of the larger growers produce rubber at a cost of about 16 cents a pound, but production costs of most of the smaller people range from 25 to 30 cents a pound. The fact that there is a substantial oversupply of crude rubber in the market accounts for current low prices.

The copper market is giving a demonstration of such light demand that a price of slightly more than 15 cents per pounds is 2 to 3 cents or more under the calculated cost of some of the smaller producers. A situation such as this carries the promise of its own correction through a remeasurement of mine and refinery activity upon a basis supplied by the demand for metal.

Readjustment Is Widening.

Dun's Review, published tomorrow by R. G. Dun & Co., says:

"Widening of the scope of the economic readjustment is unmistakably reflected in reports from practically every industry and trade of importance. Liquidation is still being forced by sharply curtailed consumptive buying and restrictions on bank accommodations.

"It can no longer be logically asserted that the present price deflation is merely a passing development. The downward movement in some quarters has been more rapid and severe than is commonly appreciated, and the recent contention that prices would not soon return to a pre-war level does not now hold good in the case of certain commodities.

"Last week did not see the end of the price readjustment in dry goods, and the attainment of a stable basis is apparently yet to be witnessed. The recent contention of some interests in the hide trade that prices had already fallen so extensively as to render further downward revisions improbable, has not been supported by subsequent movements, and another week has brought continued price yielding.

"Commercial failures this week number 212, against 205 last week, 200 in the preceding week and 100 in the corresponding week last year."

FINANCIAL NOTES

The Conemaugh Power company has sold $2,750,000 of first [closed] mortgage ten year 8 per cent gold bonds to the Harris Trust and Savings bank and E. H. Rollins & Sons. The Penn Public Service corporation guarantees the bonds both as to principal and interest. The bonds mature Oct. 1, 1930, and are being offered at 99 and interest, yielding about 8.15 per cent. A syndicate headed by Halsey, Stuart & Co. is offering $700,000 Wichita Falls, Tex., 6 per cent sewer bonds, dated Nov. 1 and due optionally Nov. 1, 1925-'50, at prices yielding 6 per cent.

It is understood the forthcoming financing of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company will involve an issue of $25,000,000 ten year 7 per cent convertible notes.

The Utica Knitting company of Utica, N. Y., has announced two or three of its mills will be closed tonight for an indefinite period. This will make idle five factories of the company. The Pilot cotton mills, at Raleigh, N. C., closed yesterday for two days. The company's business for the week was the smallest for any week in the history of the market, and curtailment by the mills probably will continue through the balance of this month and November.

Several sugar companies, including the Warner, Federal, and Arbuckle companies, are still selling sugar at 11 cents, while the Howell and American Sugar companies continue to quote 12 cents.

Application for permission to issue $1,070,000 first and refunding mortgage bonds was made to the state public utilities commission yesterday by the Illinois Traction system. Subsidiary companies at Decatur and Galesburg also asked permission to issue paper.

The New York Times.

New York, Oct. 22.—[Special.]—A stock market as largely in professional hands as was that of today is sensitive to call money movements. So it was not surprising that prices fell into a highly irregular condition when demand loans commanded 10 per cent after renewals had been made at 7 per cent.

Withdrawals of government deposits to the extent of about $40,000,000 during the week, coupled with a substantial demand for carrying large new security issues while they are being distributed, were factors in tightening money when week-end requirements came forward. Stocks were by no means weak, however, declines of a point or more in particular issues being offset by gains of equal amount elsewhere.

Utility Shares Strong.

The public utilities continued to show strength, Laclede Gas advancing 4½ points, Manhattan Elevated guaranteed, 4; Brooklyn Union Gas, 3; while Columbia Gas and Consolidated Gas gained more than a point. Third Avenue declined ⅞. The rails were steady, the only changes of note being in Reading first and second preferred, which rose 1 and 2¼ points respectively, and in St. Louis Southwestern, which declined a point.

In the oils Mexican Petroleum and Midwest Refining gained 2¼ and 3½ respectively; Pierce Oil preferred advanced 1½, and Associated Oil declined 3 points. The sugars were weak, American Beet and American declining 2⅝ and 1¼ respectively. In the motor and rubber shares Republic Truck dropped 2 points, Studebaker gained 1¼, and Goodrich common and preferred declined 1 and 3 points respectively. In the industrials United Fruit rose 6½, while Corn Products, American Car and Foundry, Western Union and Utah Copper gained more than a point. New York Air Brake declined 2½ points.

Coton and Sterling Gain.

The action of cotton and foreign exchange seemed to reflect an increasing cheerfulness in England over the strike outlook, although dispaches during the day failed to disclose the basis for optimism. Cotton futures advanced sharply on reported buying for British and French account. Sterling showed a recovery of 1½ cents in the final demand quotations of 3.44, and continental rates were a trifle more steady.

$25,000,000 Danish Bonds Are Readily Absorbed

New York, Oct. 22.—[Special.]—The ease with which the investment market subscribed the $25,000,000 offering of Danish government 7 per cent twenty-five year bonds was an interesting sidelight on the demand for bonds today. There was further activity in the market and a firm price tendency.

Dealers in unlisted bonds reported a strong demand for long term public utility securities, with a tendency toward higher prices

Molle Typewriter Company.

A. S., Milwaukee, Wis.—The Molle Typewriter company has been operating about two years and up to Sept. 1, 1920, it had shipped 5,097 machines and had 1,029 finished machines on hand. The balance sheet shows $496,000 of stock outstanding and $209,265 of net tangible assets. No report of receipts from sales available. The company evidently is making progress, but it is not yet fairly out of the preliminary stage.

Mercer Motors.

W. O.—The Mercer Motors company was formed a year ago to take over a company of similar name. Later it acquired the Simplex company, and it also holds an interest in the Locomobile company and in Hare's Motors. It issued 100,005 shares of no par value. No income account has been made public and no dividends paid. The balance sheet of March 31 last showed $1,595,357 of net working capital.

Booth Fisheries.

D. M. N.—The Booth Fisheries makes public annual reports only. Some one connected with the company was quoted recently as saying that earnings were fair, but capital must be kept in the business and dividends on common stock were unlikely in the near future.

Brief Answers.

L. W., Madison, Wis.—The Keith Railway Equipment trusts are secured by cars valued at 140 per cent of the loan. Serial payments reduce the debt faster than the security deteriorates. In view of the present lack of railway cars, these "trusts" are well secured.

H. G. B.—The limited information available concerning the Choate Oil corporation was published recently. Send stamped envelope for clipping if you wish it.

CHICAGO STOCK TRANSACTIONS

A slump in Shaw stock was the feature of trading on the Chicago Stock Exchange yesterday. The decline was attributed to disappointment over failure of the directors at their meeting on Thursday to act on the segregation plan or to increase the dividend. The shares declined to 72 and closed at 74, a net loss of 2½ points. Booth Fisheries preferred was more active than usual and showed weakness. Union Carbide was firmer and the rights were steady. Sears-Roebuck was firm, while the Montgomery Ward issues were weak, the preferred declining 2½ points. The packing house and motor issues were dull and irregular. The public utilities were variable. Peoples Gas gained a major fraction and advanced 1⅞ in New York. Chicago Railways "1" rose 2 points, but Chicago City and Connecting Railways preferred lost a fraction. Middle West Utilities preferred declined a point. On small sales Beaver Board and Deere preferred gained a point each, while Quaker Oats preferred lost a point. The governors of the exchange admitted to the list certificates of deposit for Maxwell Motor stock carrying assent or subscription privileges under the reorganization plan.

RAILROAD NOTES

The Erie has broken all traffic records by moving 30,500 cars in one day, 22,240 of which were loaded. The average mileage for a car in September was 32.02 per day.

It is expected that within the next month active negotiations will be undertaken for financing the $25,000,000 Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul bonds which mature on Jan. 1 next. While only informal conversations between representatives of the road and banking interests have been held, it is known the matter will have to be taken up in earnest within a short time

R. M. Dozier, formerly assistant freight traffic manager of the Missouri Pacific at Chicago, has resigned to go to Memphis as president of the Union railway. W. C. Stanley, general agent of the road, is now in charge of the office here.

TERM RENTAL OF $1,375,000 FOR LOOP MOVIE SITE

BY AL CHASE.

Figures which illustrate the high cost of supplying entertainment to the loop pleasure seeker were made public yesterday in the filing for record of the lease of the space 69½x190 at 65-69 West Monroe street by William S. Barbee from James M., Charles C., Carrie J., and Jeanie M. Adsit.

Mr. Barbee paid $7,000 on Jan. 1, 1919, and $18,000 on July 1, 1919. The old Inter Ocean building was not considered in the lease. All but the front part was wrecked, and about $300,000 spent in building the 1,000 seat Barbee's Loop theater in the rear—undoubtedly at present the most complete and luxurious movie in the loop.

Total Rental $1,375,000.

From Jan. 1, 1920, to Dec. 31, 1933, the rental is $4,166.66 a month, or a total of $700,000; from Jan. 1, 1934, to Dec. 31, 1938, it is $5,000 a month, or a total of $300,000; for the balance of the term, five years, it is $6,250 a month, or a total of $375,000. The lessee pays the taxes. This makes a total rental from Jan. 1, 1920, to Dec. 31, 1943, exclusive of taxes, of $1,375,000.

Mr. Barbee, however, receives $8,000 a year rental from the Chicago real estate board and $7,500 and $9,000 annually from the cigar store and lunchroom on the west and east sides of the theater entrance respectively, or a total of $24,500 per year. Mr. Barbee has assigned the lease to Barbee's Loop Theater company. The theater opened April 10, 1920, although it had been planned to open Nov. 15, 1919. For many years this was the site of the old Columbia theater, which burned down.

$100,000 Flat Sale.

The twenty-one apartment building at the southeast corner of Bosworth avenue and Jonquil terrace has been sold by the Fort Dearborn Trust and Savings bank and Fred L. Wood, trustees of the Edgar Wood estate, to Hyman Holsman for a reported $100,000, subject to $71,000. William P. Brennan was broker.

Ellis Marks, president of the Model Furniture company, now at 2022-24 West Madison street, has purchased from Dana Baer, trustee, the three story building at 2334-38 West Madison, 72x125, for a reported $45,000, through Marks & Co. He will erect a modern three story building for his own company's use as soon as present leases expire.

EXPORT BUYING GIVES GRAINS 'SURPRISE' BULGE

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

The unexpected happened to the grain markets yesterday. There were ... bulges and breaks, followed by a return and the strongest close of the week. Wheat gained 4@6½c, ... leading; corn, 1¼@1⅝c, oats ... rye 2½@2¾c, and barley 1¼ ... Provisions were irregular, with pork 40c lower, lard 5@32½c lower, and short ribs 10c lower for the day.

The grain markets were well liquidated early and export buying of wheat and rye was responsible for the change in the local attitude and a sharp advance. The early selling was on reports of an embargo at Galveston, where there is not enough ocean room to prevent accumulations of wheat, followed by an embargo by the Pennsylvania road on shipments of all grain to Baltimore. Argentine crop news was bearish.

Big Export Sales.

Wheat was bought liberally and prices advanced 2@2½c over the previous day's close early in the day. Then selling orders appeared and there was a break of 6½@7c, followed by an advance of 5½@10½c, with a close of ¼@1c from the highest of the day. It is the first gain the market has shown in a week. Seaboard exporters bought the wheat on the break and the sellers had to cover later. ...ared by the report of 4,000,000 bu being sold for export and 120,000 brls of flour being bought by Greece.

Southwestern offerings were liberal, Emporia, Kas., reporting the largest acceptances of the season. The short interest was said to have been well reduced and there was heavy selling by cash interests and Updike on the bulge.

Corn Closes with Rally.

Heavy selling of corn was on early and prices declined nearly 1c from Thursday's close, only to rally later with wheat and on covering by the pit element, making an advance of 1⅜c to nearly 2c, and a close near the top. Cash markets were lower early and higher later. Buying on the break was by Bennett, Wagner, and the Armour Grain Co., while the late bulge was by two local professionals. Receipts were only 100 cars. Export clearances for the week were 215,000 bu, against 6,000 bu last year. Argentine shipments of 5,664,000 bu were unusually large.

Oats were under pressure early from the local trading element, and on bulges were sold by commission houses, while on the breaks there was a good class of buying, which absorbed the offerings. The pit element got short on the break. The close was at the best prices after making a new early low for the season. Receipts were 76 cars.

Rye Sold for Export.

Rye was picked up by seaboard exporters and the northwest against export sales. Prices closed at the top after showing early weakness. Maltsters demand a little barley, but otherwise trade was light. Prices are 10c above corn. Provisions had an early break with ... and hogs. Packers and shorts were ... on the break, but the close was ... Prices follow:

CROP NEWS.

"Rain would be beneficial over a considerable territory, complaints of dry soil have been increasing, although the southwest had some good showers lately," says the Modern Miller. "In some sections wheat is looking... Western farmers talk of reducing acreage because of unsatisfactory prices."

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

Action of the grain markets in advancing late yesterday was said by close observers to be an indication of what is likely to happen every week or so when the markets become sold out and congested on the short side. Wheat advanced 10c from the low point, most of it in the last hour. It was said at the close that any further advance in wheat might bring increased offerings from the country, and, with the export demand said to be satisfied for the time being, it would take a lot of buying to absorb the increased offerings. There was heavy selling by cash interests in the last few minutes of trading.

While sentiment in coarse grains remains largely bullish, there was a little shifting late in the day, with active covering to obtain profits. The big buying that lifted corn prices 1c was attributed to the two Schriners.

Four months ago the world's 1920-'21 surplus wheat supplies were estimated at 550,000,000 bu at the extreme, against a demand of 600,000,000 bu. Today they are estimated at 590,000,000 to 660,000,000 bu. In the face of this change in the statistical estimates foreigners have been good buyers of wheat, sales extending to January shipment at the gulf. A local statistician says the United States exportable surplus Oct. 1 may equal 100,000,000 bu.

Canadian wheat prices have advanced proportionately over those in the United States, especially Chicago, and yesterday they were 22c over Chicago December, figuring on the basis of exchange, while domestic oats at the seaboard are lower than the Canadian.

Lake rates on wheat from Lake Superior ports to Buffalo are 7c for October, 6½c for the first half of November, 6c for the last half, and 7c per bu including winter storage at Buffalo.

Omaha is offering wheat 2@5c under Chicago at the Atlantic seaboard.

The question uppermost in the minds of the trade last night was whether the foreign demand will follow the advance in wheat prices. The general belief was that the export buying will be confined largely to breaks.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Export business in wheat in the last two days aggregates 4,000,000 bu in all positions, including Canadian and domestic wheat at the gulf. Sales of corn were 100,000 bu at Chicago for export, part deferred shipment, at low prices. The northwest sold 150,000 bu rye, shipment by Oct. 26, at 15c over Chicago December, c. i. f. Buffalo.

Domestic sales of wheat were 15,000 bu to mills, 60,000 bu corn, and 70,000 bu oats. Deliveries here, 10,000 bu oats.

Millers were after hard winter wheat here and paid 6½c over December for No. 1 and 5@5½c over for No. 2. Red winters were 15@16c over for No. 1 and 13@15c over for No. 2. No. 1 northern, 5@15c over December, with No. 1 dark northern 15@20c over. The wheat market on the whole was firm from 4c to 5c higher. Kansas City was 1@4c lower on hard and 2c lower on red winter. Orders from salesmen on the road totaled less. There were fewer customers in the market. Collections showed improvement over the few previous weeks."

Semi-demoralized conditions again featured the hog market, with salesmen panicky and anxious to dispose of their holdings, many of them belonging to local speculators. Prices declined 50c@$1.00, with the general average 70c lower at $12.90, the lowest since the second week of last December, the bottom point in 1919. It was in July of last year that the record top of $23.60 was established.

Best heavy butcher hogs sold yesterday at $13.50, with choice late at $13. Armour's mixed droves cost $12.72, with a 330 lb drove of packers at $12.25. A drove of 11,000 pigs averaging 120 lbs cost $13. Closing hog trade was lowest of the day with 6,000 left over. Shippers purchased sparingly and speculators did little business.

General cattle trade closed weak to 50c lower, with some left unsold. Receipts were small and quality was poorer than usual. Five loads averaging 1,310 to 1,362 lbs sold at $16.75, with few good enough to sell above $14. Lambs closed weak and 25@50c lower, best westerns selling at $12.75. Sheep were generally steady, some Montana wethers bringing $7.80.

Seven western markets received 18,000 cattle, 48,000 hogs, and 21,000 sheep, against 16,000 cattle, 43,000 hogs, and 18,000 sheep previous Friday and 33,000 cattle, 49,000 hogs, and 30,000 sheep a year ago.

Receipts for today are estimated at 2,500 cattle, 4,000 hogs, and 5,000 sheep, against 2,690 cattle, 4,969 hogs, and 2,886 sheep at Chicago corresponding Saturday a year ago.

A used car is a much better buy than a new car, if you buy it at the right price. You will naturally get the best price from a company that trades cars in at the lowest price.

Realizing that satisfied customers are our best asset, we will not take a used car in trade unless we can get it at a very low price, so that we can resell it a real bargain. The used Dodge Brothers cars, Oldsmobile, Essex, Nash, etc., that we have are all bargains.

The Book Fair Closes Today

WITH the celebration of Chicago Authors' Day, and a special recognition of the children, today sees the end of the Book Fair, which has amply demonstrated its sincere purpose to aid Chicago in reaching the forefront of literary distinction.

Recognition of the civic character of the Fair was attested by the hearty co-operation vouchsafed by Eastern publishers no less than Western. They poured the best they had—their choicest productions, their precious autographs and manuscripts, their priceless relics—into this Literary Bazaar.

The response by American authors was no less hearty than that of their publishers. They came, they conquered, and they autographed. The public, cordial in its welcome, found authors to be "regular people." There flowed the spontaneous delight that comes when talent and appreciation meet.

The wholehearted manner in which the Book Fair has been praised by public, publishers, authors and editors leads us to believe it has been a social, artistic and literary success.

In the closing hours of the Fair there will be emphasized Chicago's claim to distinction in letters through the gathering, in their publishers' booths, of Chicago's many authors. More and more have publishers turned to the middle west for fresh talent, and the honor roll bears ample proof of their judgment. Many of these men and women, here today, will be pleased to greet their friends, and autograph volumes for them.

News Notes of the Book Fair

THE children will by no means be overlooked today, even though it be the closing day of the Book Fair. The Volland bungalow will keep open house all day, and the children can take in the many individual exhibits scattered throughout the Fair.

The Fair is a wonderful thing for children to come to, because it makes them friendly toward books—as if these were really-truly people, not at all just plain, unfeeling paper with printed words.

Children will see publishers and authors and original manuscripts and pictures—and they can see how books are bound and how they get beautiful jeweled covers. And there is the Lincoln exhibit—his neckties and glove and his handwriting—and even all this isn't all!

In the Moffat, Yard & Company booth are a number of the books by Bojer, autographed by the writer in his home in Norway and sent specially for the Book Fair. These volumes go to those who come first.

The Yale University Press exhibits a progressiveness that stamps it as a commercial institution. Its exhibit shows a range including everything but fiction. It is strong in fairy tales and juveniles, and boasts authors such as Taft, Hadley, Root and Lord Bryce.

The latest edition of the New Standard Dictionary, published by Funk & Wagnalls, contains 3,000 words added to our language since the war. In this publisher's booth is displayed the dictionary that represented twenty years of continuous work, has drawn on the combined labor of 380 specialists, and originally meant an investment of $1,450,000. That's what it would have cost the publisher if he had produced but one copy! It might be called the most costly single volume ever produced. Funk & Wagnalls also show a line of non-fiction books for boys, some fine works of art and a large number of informative books.

Doubleday, Page & Company is exhibiting evidence of a curious incident in the production of "The Rescue." The manuscript was started in 1898 and, after an interruption of more than twenty years, was finished in 1919. What caused Conrad to hesitate is not explained, but it is pointed out that critics cannot put their finger on the spot where the story was interrupted.

* * * *

A piece of Russian news crops out of the Doubleday, Page & Company booth in the announcement that next spring the diary of Count Witte, Russia's premier under the Czar, will be published. Witte was a progressive who foresaw the doom of Czaristic autocracy if reforms were not practiced. Secret agents are said to have searched Europe in vain on behalf of the Czar for years to find and destroy the diary known to be in existence.

* * * *

A gratifying tribute to the Book Fair has been the sincere co-operation of Chicago publishers. They have given the best they had to make their exhibits interesting as well as educational. The honor roll includes: The Reilly & Lee Company, Rand, McNally & Company, Laird & Lee, Inc., University of Chicago Press, P. F. Volland Company, A. W. Shaw Company, Daughaday & Company, M. A. Donohue & Company, the Hill Binding Company and Ernst Hertzberg & Sons.

* * * *

The Book Fair has been a happy medium in bringing authors and their readers face to face. The throngs that stormed publishers' booths to have volumes autographed were of no mean size. Beginning with Mary Roberts Rinehart, who was pursued from pillar to post by clamoring admirers, down though W. Somerset Maugham, Tom Daly, Irving Bacheller, Edgar Guest, Hamlin Garland, Edna Ferber, Enos Mills to Henry Kitchell Webster—all had a touch of popular favor, and all were gracious in the cordial manner in which they met a strenuous task.

There are the most desired colors to choose, beaver shades, brown, navy blue, hunters' green and black. The hats have long streamers of heavy soft ribbon. And all the favored versions of rolling brim and mushroom shapes are included. Note the three sketches above.

Warp-Printed Taffeta Silks $1.95 Yard

This is, we believe, one of the most unusual values that has been offered for some time in silks of this quality. There are 2,000 yards of these taffetas, fresh, new and lovely—just the fabric much in demand for the making of dance frocks and evening gowns.

Exquisite Floral Patterns Are Printed on White, Maize, Pink, Ciel Blue and Turquoise Blue Grounds

These warp-printed taffetas are 36 inches wide. The quantity, 2,000 yards, is not great when one considers the remarkably low pricing, so that early choice is advised.

Black Satin Charmeuse, Very Special at $2.85 Yard

Another feature-value in this Week-End-Sale is an assortment consisting of 1,000 yards of this 40-inch wide, all-silk black satin charmeuse. It is of that soft and supple quality which drapes beautifully and conforms perfectly to the making of this season's frock fashions.
